Antioch Readies For Christmas

Antioch will see a variety of Christmas events right through Christmas day. Coming up soon is a presentation of Handel's "Messiah," featuring members of the Waukegan Symphony and a chorus comprised of elements of various community members.

The performance will be at St. Peter's Church in Antioch, at Lake and Elizabeth Sts. on Friday, Dec. 5 at 8 p.m. Admission for the show is free, and it is sponsored by Persin and Persin Jewelers on Main St. Tickets are available at the store or at the door on the night of the "Messiah."

On Tuesday, Dec. 9, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., the Antioch Upper Grade members of the Strolling Carolers will entertain shoppers and merchants in downtown Antioch with a variety of favorite Christmas melodies.

The National Marionette Company will present the Elves and the Cobbler and Little Matchstick Girl marionette show on Saturday, Dec. 13 at 2 and 3:30 p.m. The show will be staged at St. Peter's Church basement hall.

Two performances include puppet demonstration. Tickets are $2 per guest and will be sold at the door. The show is sponsored by Bill Naumann and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

On Saturday, Dec. 20, have breakfast with Santa Claus at the Scout House on Main St., two blocks north of Depot St. The breakfast will last from 8 to 10:30 a.m.

Bank Holds Seminars

The First National Bank of Antioch conducted two in-house computer seminars on Nov. 6 and 13. The seminars were attended by local business customers who expressed an interest in learning computer basics.

Kevin Brownwell and Patrick Canevello from Computerland of Lake County were the speakers for each session. The discussion focused on the different brands of computers, computer language, software and hardware pricing, servicing, and support once a computer purchase has been made.

Santa's Castle Almost Ready For Parade

by MARK BENNO

The coming weekend will herald the arrival of Santa Claus in colorful style, as he parades down Main St. on his way to the Enchanted Castle on Toft Ave.

Festivities will open with the Antioch Christmas Parade on Saturday at 10 a.m. The parade, sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, will wind down Main St. and eventually culminate at the Enchanted Castle.

Florence Babusek, chairman of the Chamber's Christmas program, said, "we would certainly be delighted if any group would like to walk or march in the parade." Those interested in joining the parade should call Babusek at (312) 395-2160.

The construction of the Enchanted Castle was a large task. The Village of Antioch helped sponsor the castle, along with the Chamber of Commerce and other helpful people and organizations. Its final cost will run into the thousands of dollars, and Babusek was pleased at the support it received.

"I'm delighted at the overall response," she said, "not only from the people of Antioch, but also from Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. We're all in the lakes region together, and whatever helps one helps everybody. I'm just pleased at their involvement."

Children may visit Santa in the Enchanted Castle at 5-8 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 4-8 p.m. on Friday, 11-5 p.m. on Saturday, and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. The castle will be open until Christmas Eve.

Those who visit the Enchanted Castle may notice the elves attending Santa Claus. These elves are actually Girl Scouts and 4-H girls who will aid Santa and make sure that every child receives their free gift.

Each child will receive a free, giant coloring book from Santa. A polaroid picture from Santa is optional, but 50 cents from each picture will go back to the Girl Scouts and 4-H. The advertising in the coloring book will help offset some of the costs for the Enchanted Castle.

"I was particularly pleased," said Babusek, "that people who didn't need to advertise in the coloring book donated the money anyway." The Enchanted Castle will also be a drop-off point for Holiday Food Drop bins.

Saturday is also the date for a free showing of "Annie" at 11 a.m. The matinee, sponsored by the First National Bank of Antioch, should be a delight for both children and adults. Admission is one or more non-perishable food items.

An open house will be held by the Lakes Region Historical Society on Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and on Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. The museum is located at the corner of Depot and Main Sts. in Antioch.

Babusek and Chamber of Commerce President Larry Hanson are certain of a good turnout for the weekend's upcoming events. They hope all can come out for the parade, and maybe even get some Christmas shopping done early.

Administration's Salary Raise Same As Teachers

The Antioch High School (ACHS) Board approved administrative salary increases ranging from $2,000 to $4,500 for the 1986-87 school year at its last regular meeting.

The administrative salary increases parallel the 7.05 percent salary increase just given to teachers, as do the salary increases of the school's non-teaching staff. The total in dollars of the administrative staff's salary increases amounts to approximately $70,000.

The salary increases given to ACHS teachers for the 1986-87 school year totals $186,000.

The Antioch High School Board, at their Nov. 20 meeting, also approved the 1987-88 school calendar as presented by Supt. Gary Allen.

The first day of attendance for the faculty and freshmen for the 1987-88 school year will be Tuesday, Aug. 25, 1987 and all students will be in attendance on Wednesday, Aug. 26.

District 34 To Keep Present Boundaries

by MARK BENNO

During its Tuesday, Nov. 18 meeting, the Antioch Community Consolidated School Dist. 34 Board decided to remain with its present policy of having children who live near North Ave. and east of Rte. 83 walk to school.

The 185-day calendar ends the school year on June 10, 1988. Vacations for the year include Dec. 19, 1987 through Jan. 3, 1988 and March 26, 1988 through April 3, 1988.

The board approved employing Cheryl A. Kuchera as an English teacher for the second semester of the 1986-87 school year. She will replace Patricia J. Goodrich who was granted a leave of absence for the semester. The board also OK'ed the employment of Chris Cox to fill the position of freshmen basketball cheerleader sponsor.

Director of pupil personnel, Pete Pekkarinen presented information on projected enrollments for Antioch Community High School. Enrollment figures at this time indicate a continued enrollment over the next few years to be between 1,700 and 1,800 students.

Pekkarinen also reported that the College Night held on Tuesday, Nov. 4, was well-attended.

Dr. Donald Skidmore, Dist. 34 superintendent, said, "it's not a question of affordability." He felt, "uncomfortable about changing boundaries."

In his notes on the meeting, Skidmore said, "the basic problem is, of course, once you (Continued on Page 17A)"

Republicans Dominate In Antioch Village Elections

by JOHN STEINKE

Among Antioch Village's 4,707 registered voters, 1,949 cast ballots in the Nov. 4 election. The voter turnout was only 41.4 percent. There were 557 straight Republican ballots recorded in the election to only 25 for the Democrats.

The Adlai Stevenson gubernatorial campaign faced the unenviable task of educating voters to "Punch 3" in order to support him and his Illinois Solidarity candidate for secretary of state, Jane Spigel, as well as the regular Democratic party ticket for other offices.

Stevenson resigned as the Democratic candidate for governor last spring after two disciples of Lyndon H. LaRouche were nominated on the party's ticket.

They included Mark Fairchild for lieutenant governor and Janice Hart for secretary of state. Rather than run with candidates, Stevenson described Fairchild and Hart as "neo-Nazis" and "kooks." He then formed a third party.

All the GOP nominees carried the Village of Antiach. The only Democratic aspirants, who achieved a respectable showing in Antioch, were Lake County Clerk Linda Hess and U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon.

Hess lost the village by 191 votes while Dixon was defeated by 122 ballots. Most Republican candidates attained spectacular victories. Secretary of State Jim Edgar garnered 86.6 percent of the vote in the three-way contest. Both Governor James R. Thompson and comptroller candidate, Adeline Geo-Karis, carried the community by 3-to-1 margins.

The Antioch vote broke down in this fashion. For U.S. Senator, Rep. Judy Koehler gathered 980 votes (53.3 percent), while Dem. Alan J. Dixon gathered 858 votes (46.7 percent).

Rep. James Thompson received 1,390 votes (77.1 percent) for governor, while Dem. Adlai Stevenson received 413 votes (22.9 percent).

For attorney general, Rep. Bernard Carey garnered 1,181 votes (60.8 percent), and Dem. Neil F. Hartigan got 709 votes (39.2 percent).

The secretary of state vote had three categories. Rep. Jim Edgar received 1,608 votes (86.6 percent), Dem. Janice Hart had 166 votes (8.9 percent), and Solidarity candidate Jane Spigel had 82 votes (4.4 percent).

Rep. Mike Houston led the state treasurer's race with 1,110 votes (63.3 percent), while Dem. Jerry Cosentino had 644 votes (36.7 percent).

For comptroller, Rep. Adeline Geo-Karis gathered 1,369 votes (76.0 percent), and Dem. Roland Burris garnered 432 votes (24.0 percent).

Rep. Donna-Mae Litwiler received 1,025 votes in Antioch (55.1 percent), with Linda Hess receiving 834 votes (44.9 percent).

Rep. Robert H. Babcox led the sheriff's race with 1,289 votes (69.4 percent), while Dem. Sander P. Stagman received 568 votes (30.6 percent). For county treasurer, Jack "Red" Anderson, the Rep. candidate, received 1,353 votes (74.4 percent), while Dem. Robert Flannery gathered 466 votes (25.6 percent).

Antioch Resident Works At Indiana University

A total of 239 people comprise the staff supervising the 11 student housing units on the Bloomington campus of Indiana University. The staff members work under the supervision of John Schuh, associate dean of students for residence life.

Each of the dormitories or residence centers has a coordinator who leads those assigned as Resident Assistants (RA's). The RA's live in the dorms where they work, and serve as counselors, floor managers, troubleshooters and supervisors.

Many are chosen before the start of the fall term each year, with another 100 assigned in the fall.

Linda Esser, daughter of Marie Esser of Antioch, is an RA at Indiana University. Her major is Early Childhood. Esser attended Carmel High School for girls.

RA's must be at least juniors, but about 35 percent are graduate students. Each RA works about 20 to 25 hours per week.

Great Bikers!

Tom Hudd, Chuck Bischoff of the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept., and Rich Hudd celebrate their winning of bicycles. On Sept. 28 the brothers brought in more money for cancer in the Antioch Bike-A-Thon than anyone else. Their top totals on money earned won them the 10-speed bicycles.

Harland Re-Elected As Illinois Twp. Director

Antioch Twp. Clerk Richard Harland was unanimously re-elected to the position of director of the 11,000 member Township Officials of Illinois (TOI) at the association's 79th Annual Educational Conference held Nov. 9-12 in Springfield.

The association, based in rural Astoria (Fulton County) represents 93 percent of the state's 1435 townships on a variety of legislative and educational matters in Springfield and Washington D.C.

Items discussed at the conference included township general assistance, maintenance and construction of township roads and bridges, and the association's risk management association (TOIRMA) created six months ago. TOIRMA was created six months ago to provide complete insurance coverage at reasonable contribution levels for TOI member townships.

Participating in the conference were the Secretary of State Jim Edgar, Senate Pres. Philip Rock, and State Senator Aldo DiAngelis. Other state legislators attending were Senators Laura Kent Donahue, Richard Luft, Sam Vadalahene, Representative Don Hense, State Representative William Peterson, and Illinois Dir. of Agriculture Larry Wieries.

Representing the governor's office at several sessions was Local Government Liaison, Mitchell Roob.

The festivities will begin with the arrival of Hawthorn Center's Santa and Mrs. Claus, who will help the volunteers distribute gifts that were donated to over 130 residents of this facility.

The St. Peter's Council of Catholic Women and Church Choir of Antioch will entertain the crowd with holiday carols as they encourage the residents to participate in a sing-along. Ron's Polka Originals will provide the polka music for singing and dancing, which will conclude the eventful afternoon.

This event is being coordinated once again by Jean Zak, representative for the St. Peter's Council of Catholic Women and Angela Maras, Marketing Dir. for Hawthorn shopping center.

Antioch Senior Citizens.

According to Maras, one of the coordinators for the event since its inception, "for the past 11 years, a group of concerned citizens have pooled their efforts to share with the residents of the Libertyville Manor the joys and excitement of the holiday season by bringing the spirit of Christmas right to them."

The Libertyville Manor Extended Care Facility is located on Rte. 137, one mile west of Rte. 21 in Libertyville. For further information, please call Maurine Crocco at (312) 367-6100.

Highlight ACHS Education

Teachers at Antioch Community High School distributed pamphlets to students Wednesday, Nov. 19, as part of American Education Week. Prepared by the ACHS Education Assn., the pamphlet gives students tips on being successful in school.

Topics covered include study skills, being organized, taking lecture notes, preparing for tests, taking tests, and reading textbooks. The handout also includes a special note to parents. Virtually every student at the high school received a copy to take home and keep.

Titled "Keys To Success In School," the pamphlet is another in a series of "help" publications the teachers' association is producing. The first one, "Home-School Success," was given to parents in October at Back to School Night.

Parents wishing to obtain a copy of this latest pamphlet should contact the high school guidance office, where they are still available.

Bernardin To Celebrate Mass

The University of St. Mary of the Lake will host a Carol Festival and celebration of the Eucharist on Sunday, Dec. 7 at 3 p.m. in the University's Main Chapel, in Mundelein.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Joseph Cardinal Bernardin, Archbishop of Chicago, restructured St. Mary of the Lake to highlight its status as a university inclusive of Mundelein Seminary and the Center for Development in Ministry. The Carol Festival and Eucharist celebrates this development of the university. Cardinal Bernardin will be principal celebrant of the Mass.

The Carol Festival will highlight Advent preparation for the Christmas season. The festival includes brass ensemble, bell choir, the Mundelein Seminary Choir and a recasting of significant scriptural persons that convey the spirit of the season. The Eucharist will celebrate the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. All guests are invited to a reception following the celebration.

On Dec. 19, 1844, Bishop Quarter received the State Charter to begin the University of St. Mary of the Lake.

At that time it was located at Madison and Michigan Aves. in Chicago, next to Lake Michigan. Cardinal Mundelein instituted the university in Lake County in the town of Area. Lake Area was renamed St. Mary's Lake.

In 1926, when the Eucharistic Congress was held at the seminary, Cardinal Mundelein hosted a half million visitors. That same year, in his honor, the village of Area was renamed Mundelein.

Last year, Cardinal Bernardin expanded the campus of the university to include Mundelein Seminary and the Center for Development in Ministry, expressing a commitment to the university by the Archdiocese of Chicago.

The Rev. Gerald F. Kicanas is the current president and rector of the University.

Macwhyte Employees To Receive Trade Assistance

The U.S. Labor Dept. has ruled that workers laid off from Kenosha's Macwhyte Wire Rope Co. on or after May 14, 1985, are eligible to apply for Trade Adjustment Assistance, Congressman Les Aspin (D-Wis.) said. About 50 workers are expected to be eligible.

"The labor department's investigation found that rising imports of wire rope contributed significantly to reduced sales and production while increasing layoffs at Macwhyte," Aspin said.

"In fact, the numbers show that employment in the Kenosha plant had dropped from a high of 474 hourly employees in 1980 to 290 in May 1986, when the TAA petition was filed. That's a 39 percent loss.

"And those figures, compared with the rise in imports of products directly competitive with those produced by Macwhyte, are the reason labor certified the company eligible to apply for TAA," Aspin said.

Foreign market penetration of domestic wire rope sales doubled in the last eight years.

The unemployment compensation office in Kenosha should be ready to take claims in early December.

The eligibility for affected employees will continue until Nov. 2, 1988.

'Star Trek' Voyages Home To Round Lake

by BILL DOTSON

Star Fleet. To countless fans of the legendary "Star Trek" series, those words command respect, for they represent the most elite military organization in the universe - one that exists in a vision of a possible distant future, far beyond our time.

Yet there is another Star Fleet that exists today, one that reflects many of the same ideas and characteristics.

This Star Fleet consists of seven fleets of 96 ships. It has approximately 5,500 members who range in rank from lieutenant commander to admiral. It is divided into five divisions: command, medical, engineering, sciences, and security.

Like its counterpart, this Star Fleet performs a variety of missions including seeking out new life forms, exploring new worlds, and maintaining universal peace.

Unlike its counterpart, its highest office, Star Fleet Hqtrs., is located not in an orbiting space station, but in Round Lake. The fleet is based at 375 N. Cedar Lake Ave., where they have been since moving from their previous home in Grayslake last year. It was the second time they had moved due to expansion.

Along with its imaginative missions, Star Fleet also performs a number of more down to earth activities. They have visited people in hospitals, they have encouraged kids to perform better in school. They were scheduled to travel to a theatre complex in Iowa and be on hand to promote the premiere of the film "Star Trek IV: The Voyage Home", which opens nationally on Wednesday, Nov. 26.

Star Fleet is the brainchild of Trek fan and Fleet Admiral Charles Foy, and Admiral Murrie Boston, who serves as the fleet's supreme commander. The two worked next door to each other at the time of Star Fleet's origins five years ago.

"At the time, we had no idea it would grow into what it has become today", Foy said. "It all started when I attended a Star Trek convention in 1981. I had these photo I.D. cards that I was selling, but at the time there was no Star Fleet, only the cards. With those cards, we signed up 140 people in the first two days. From that, I realized there was room for a lot more than just ID cards."

So Star Fleet, more than a fan club for the television and film series, was born. Foy and Boston gathered "everything ever printed on Star Trek" and set to work building their organization. While Foy handled most of the technical side of things, Boston dealt with other responsibilities in the early days.

"I made sure the bills got paid and things like that," she said. "Also, I would make phone calls to conventions, setting things up."

Most of their large membership consists of people they have signed up at conventions over the years. "We've never had to do any advertising", Boston said, "It's all been word-of-mouth."

Just as Round Lakes' Star Trek promotes "infinite diversity in infinite combinations", Star Fleet's membership is widely varied.

"The majority of our membership is made up of 30 to 40 year olds who grew up with the tv show", Foy said. "But we've also brought in the six to 20 year olds who were attracted by the movies. We have many handicapped members including our blind lawyer. We have a chaplain who's a member. There are whole families who are into it."

Although based in Round Lake, the membership is not limited to Lake County residents. "We have people in Iowa and California and there are scattered members in other places," Foy stated. It is believed the most distant members ever to join (so far) are two people from Turkey.

Most of Star Trek's supporting cast have been made members of the organization, as has Trek creator Gene Roddenberry. Actress Majel Barrett, who plays nurse-turned-doctor Christine Chapel and is also Mrs. Roddenberry, even gave Star Fleet her home address and phone number.

"Majel Barrett is one of the warmest people I've ever met", Foy said. "She told us 'Call Gene up and ask him some questions-maybe it'll irritate him.'"

Foy says that there was no need to obtain permission from Roddenberry or Paramount Pictures for the rights to use the terms and symbols their organization uses.

"I did extensive research on copyrights", he said. "We don't use the term 'Star Trek', which is a trademark, in any of our printed material. And we don't use the names Kirk and Spock or any of the others. The term 'Star Fleet' is not copyrighted, it's only mentioned."

They also avoid that problem with their uniforms and ship designs by setting themselves 100 years ahead of the time in which the Star Trek stories take place. So they appear similar to those seen in the films but different.

"We've never had any complaint from Paramount or any of the Trek people", Foy said. "They know we're promoting them, anyway."

Star Trek fan clubs are not exactly in short supply today.

"I have this little 45 second spiel that I usually use at conventions to tell people what it's all about", he says. "Basically, it's the ultimate in role-playing. It's a chance to use your imagination to the fullest that it'll probably ever be used. We give people a chance to be whatever they want to be."

Foy doesn't use the term "fan club" in describing Star Fleet. "It's a fan-based organization", he said.

Organization is certainly a more appropriate word. Star Fleet seems almost as efficiently, systematically organized as it's counterpart- and it offers more than an average fan club.

"With most fan clubs, you get maybe a newsletter and an ID card and some pictures and that's it", Foy said. "As you can see, we go into it much more in-depth."

So what does the future hold for Star Fleet? It should last at least as long as Star Trek and the ideals it represents remain so popular. With the new Trek film "The Voyage Home", that popularity is no doubt on the brink of a large resurgence.

Critic At Large In... Lakeland

By Matthew Poliakon

Kiss Me Kate

Friday night's performance of "Kiss Me Kate" by the Pullman Players at the Island Lake Village Complex, was an interesting and lively night of Cole Porter.

Now when one is in the position of a critic, as I am, one must, despite everything, not get taken in by having a good time. No, a critic should first measure all the qualities of a production before allowing him or herself the luxury of having fun. This was the danger in this presentation of "Kiss Me Kate". Could it have been the brilliant costumes, the extremely lively actors, or simply the fact that one can not sit very long listening to anything written by Cole Porter and remain unmoved?

In a quest for live theater in the Lakeland area, one can often be delightfully surprised, as I was Friday night by this production.

A brief thumb nail sketch of the plot? I thought everyone knew this story. It is placed at its surface in a theater in Baltimore, but within this play about a play in Baltimore is another play, William Shakespeare's "Taming Of The Shrew". It is at this level that the "fun" begins to develop. It seems an ex-couple, Fred Graham (played by Bruce Berger) and his ex-wife Lilli Vanessi (played by Carole Gerald) are again temporarily together playing the leads in the play "Taming Of The Shrew" in a theater in Baltimore (represented in a theater in Island Lake?). These two characters are becoming more than involved in Mr. Shakespeare's story. More involved than either two would wish. The result? If you don't know, you'll just have to catch this Cole Porter festival and see.

On my rating scale of ★★★★★, this presentation with all the inherent problems of performing in the Island Lake Village Complex ★★ and perhaps a ★ more for the enthusiasm of its performers.

Opryland To Audition

Representatives from Opryland, the Nashville theme park that highlights live musical productions, will make audition stops in Chicago on Dec. 1 and Decatur on Dec. 11 during their 26-city tour. The coast-to-coast audition tour continues through January.

Opryland will hire approximately 400 singers, dancers, dance captains, conductor/pianists, musicians, stage managers and technicians for shows staged in the park, at industrial shows and conventions and for performances on the General Jackson, a multimillion-dollar showboat that operates year-round at Opryland USA.

The Chicago-area auditions are Dec. 1 (Monday) from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in studio one of the Gus Giordano Dance Studio at 614 Davis St. in Evanston.

The Decatur auditions are Thursday, Dec. 11 from noon to 4 p.m. in Millikin University's Kirkland Fine Arts Center. No appointments are necessary for the open-call auditions.

Bob Whittaker, Opryland's director of entertainment, offers these suggestions to those auditioning: "When you audition, it is very important that you are relaxed. Do the material you feel you do well, material that you are comfortable with. Most importantly, do what you do best and do it first."

According to Whittaker, Opryland is looking for performers proficient in virtually all styles of American music, with versatility being the key factor. Both non-country and country entertainers are being sought.

Singers should be prepared to perform two numbers, one ballad and one more upbeat song. A piano accompanist is part of the audition team, and singers should bring music in the proper key.

Dancers will be asked to perform a routine of no more than one minute. A record player and cassette tape player will be available at the open-call auditions.

Instrumentalists will be asked to sight read, and woodwind players must be proficient doublers. Conductor/pianists must submit a resume and references, and a piano audition will be required. Stage managers and technicians should bring a resume.

Stage managers will be interviewed at the auditions, while technicians' resumes will be forwarded to Opryland's technical director.

For the first time this year, Opryland will also be accepting original songs for possible publication by the recently formed Opryland Music Group.

A cassette tape with no more than three songs and

Players Do Turn About

What do you have when you change Oscar to Olive, make Felix Florence, take poker night with the boys and turn it into Trivial Pursuit night with the girls? You've got Neil Simon's new blockbuster comedy, "The Odd Couple (female version)" which is also the Kirk Players' next theatrical offering!

The acquisition of the production rights to this newly released play is due entirely to the efforts of the founder-director John W. Lynn. He was on the phone with the "right people" at precisely the right moment. As a result, they got first dibs on this feminine rendition of the Simon classic.

Turnabout isn't just fair play, it's the happy concept behind this second show of the 21st Subscription Series. The veteran cast includes Phyllis Carter as Florence Ungar and Kathy Russ as Olive Madison. Jerilynn Kjellberg, Donna Lynn, Maureen Cook Slade and Paula Willems will appear as the Trivial Pursuit Gang. Hill Carter portrays Manolo Costazuela and Russ Slade is Jesus, his younger brother. John Lynn will, once again, assume his post as director and Carol Marie Fischesser is stage manager.

Performance dates are Dec. 5 and 6. Mark those calendars now! Curtain time, as always, will be 8 p.m. in the Mundelein High School Auditorium. Be sure to bring the whole family and a few friends.

For ticket information call John Lynn at (312)566-6594. All proceeds from this show will be donated to Omni Youth Services.

Diplomacy

The month of March was named after Mars, the Roman god of war, presumably signifying that the military campaigns interrupted by winter could be resumed.

Citizens Pack Hall To Protest Landfills

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

"The only place that Waste Management should be allowed to burn," said Dist. 6 County Board member Bruce Hansen, "is in hell."

A loud round of applause from the overflow crowd packing the Libertyville Twp. Hall on the evening of Nov. 19 followed Hansen's statement.

A count of the crowd early on revealed that 219 people showed up to hear county board members explain what the Heartland settlement involves and why they approved it. Board members who attended were Andrea Moore of Libertyville, who voted for the agreement; Jim Dolan of Libertyville, who voted for the agreement; and Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich, who voted against the agreement. Norm Geary of Grayslake, who voted against the agreement, was represented by Virginia Harrington. Newly elected board members (who did not vote on the agreement) who attended were John Reindl of Mundelein and Mike Graham and Carol Calabrese of Libertyville. All three stated their opposition to the agreement.

The Heartland agreement, adopted on Oct. 16, ended a five-year multi-million dollar lawsuit between the county and developers of the 1,850-acre Heartland property which lies directly south of Grayslake.

What has sparked controversy is a provision in the agreement that Waste Management would be allowed to develop an 88-acre associated landfill and incinerator on Peterson Rd. and Rte. 83. When the application came in to the county from Waste Management, it asked for 160 acres to be used as a sanitary landfill and a site for an incinerator.

An associated landfill is used to bury the ash remains from the incineration process. Sanitary landfills are used to bury solid wastes from municipal garbage collections.

The request from Waste Management comes on the heels of an application by ARF Landfill, just north of the proposed Waste Management site, to double its size.

A key provision of the Heartland agreement notes that if Waste Management does not get approval on its application, the agreement between the county and the developers is void. The county will act as hearing agent on the request.

Critics of the settlement maintain that the county can not possibly act objectively on the Waste Management application because to deny it would be to toss out the entire agreement.

The citizens meeting was called by two Libertyville area residents, Dorothy Mosier and Chris Geiselhart, to form a group that can act to stop the proposed Waste Management Landfill and expansion of the ARF Landfill. Residents were concerned that a landfill had been made part of the agreement and that the entire thing had been negotiated in secrecy, with no notice to the public until shortly before a vote was taken.

Dist. 5 Rep. Andrea Moore told the group that she found out that Waste Management had had an option for four years on the existing property. She said that if it had not been taken in by the county, the application would have gone to Round Lake Park which does have neither the personnel nor the money that the county does to properly review the application.

Grayslake Mayor Ed Schroeder interjected that it would not have gone to Round Lake Park if the county did not drop the suit.

Moore also said that while the agreement is contingent upon approval of the landfill, that does not affect the county's authority.

"If the application does not meet the proper standards, we will reject it and be no worse off than we were before the settlement," she said.

Dist. 6 Rep. John Reindl told the audience that the county would not take their side on this.

"The negotiations on this were held in such secrecy that I wasn't told about it until the night before the vote," Reindl said. He bitterly criticized the board for its action and told the audience they had better organize and get an attorney.

Dist. 6 Rep. Hansen said that the county had given approval to the Wauconda Sand and Gravel pit - "one of the most polluted areas in the world." He noted that existing sites in the county have not been monitored closely and said there is no reason to believe that they will be in the future.

"Do you want Waste Management to have control of your air supply, your water supply?" he asked. "Where are we going to bury all this crap after we find out it's not working as promised."

Dist. 5 Rep. Mike Graham said the only way to put a stop to the development was to buy the land. Asking for a show of hands as to how many would like to do that, nearly three-quarters of the crowd indicated they liked the idea.

Dist. 5 Rep. Carol Calabrese said that recycling is the only long-term solution to the problem of waste disposal and added that she would work to educate the public on the need for recycling.

Grayslake Trustee Charles Lucas spoke from the audience and told the crowd that although Grayslake was involved in the lawsuit and had to sign the agreement, they were not allowed to be a part of the negotiations.

"I've been on the board for 28 years and they didn't bother to call me and ask my opinion," Lucas said.

Grayslake Mayor Ed Schroeder said that Grayslake did not like the agreement, but that the village board "succumbed to the threats of the Lake County people that if we didn't settle, the lawsuit would go on ad infinitum and we would be in it alone."

Libertyville resident Gaylord Donnelly noted that no matter what is promised, all landfills leak. Everyone agreed that there is no known case of a landfill not leaking.

After the meeting, Dist. 5 Rep. Jim Dolan said that it is not certain that the Heartland developers would toss out the agreement if Waste Management is denied a landfill application.

"They (the developers) have the option of voiding the agreement in that case," Dolan said, "but no one knows if they will."

After the officials left the meeting, the citizens began organizing a formal group to fight the landfills. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the Libertyville Twp. Hall.

Insurance Discounts

The trend toward non-smokers' discounts on life insurance—more than 325 companies today offer reduced rates on annual premiums—has extended to other forms of insurance. Nonsmokers often can expect to pay less for disability insurance, automobile accident policies, and homeowners' policies.

Issueless Election Draws Few Voters

by JOHN STEINKE

In the Nov. 4, 1986, off-year election, the voters elected 34 U.S. Senators, the entire 435-member House of Representatives, 36 out of 50 governors, a majority of state legislators and numerous countywide officials. Thirty-three percent of the people who participate in presidential contests vanish in midterm elections.

Lake County's electorate emulated this political pattern in the fall election. Only 46 percent of the area voters cast ballots in this year's contest. This percentage was lower than 1974 when the Watergate affair and President Richard M. Nixon's resignation reduced the voter turnout to 49.5 percent.

This year's election was issueless, unlike 1982, when high unemployment concerned many voters. Nor did the statewide elections generate much interest because Democratic Sen. Alan J. Dixon and Republican Gov. James R. Thompson attracted only token opposition. Finally, Lake county had only one competitive countywide race, for clerk.

Bans Office Smoke

Dr. Bernard J. Turnock, director of the Illinois Dept. of Public Health, announced adoption of a major new policy that restricts smoking to designated areas in all the agency's offices.

"We hope that this policy, which takes effect on Nov. 17, will serve as a model and an incentive for other state departments and private business," Dr. Turnock said.

"The primary objective of the new policy is to balance the rights of nonsmokers against those who do smoke," he said.

The department directive says:

"It shall be the policy of the Dept. of Public Health that employees not smoke on the job. To this end, all areas of the Department are designated non smoking areas, except those rooms which are designated smoking areas by the director.

"Employees should refrain from smoking while they are representing the Department and/or in the performance of their assigned duties outside of Department facilities. All Department vehicles shall be considered no smoking areas when there are one or more occupants that are non-smokers."

The department's previous policy, established a year ago, banned smoking in the agency's conference rooms, hallways, restrooms and elevators.

Dr. Turnock said there are three reasons for establishing the stronger policy, which affects nearly 1,100 employees in co-central offices in Chicago and Springfield, regional offices in nine locations, and three laboratories.

He said, "Nicotine is a narcotic that affects all organs. Smoking is harmful to the non-smoker, and air is the principal medium that sustains life and must be protected."

In Springfield, two rooms with attractive new furniture and air filters have been established as smoking areas. In the Chicago office at the State of Illinois Center, the sixth-floor break area has been designated as the only smoking location.

Non-smoking areas also have been established in the regional offices in Chicago, Bellwood, Rockford, Peoria, Springfield, Edwardsville, Marion, Champaign, and West Chicago, and at three laboratories in Chicago, Springfield and Carbondale.

The new policy follows an employee survey that showed nearly 78 percent believed there either should be restricted smoking or a total smoking ban in department offices.

The department will continue to offer classes to persons who want to quit smoking. Certificates will be presented to those who successfully kick the habit.

Want To Quit

About 54 million Americans still smoke. Eighty-five percent of smokers would like to quit, surveys show, and a great many have tried to quit at least once.

Look Out, Santa Claus Is Coming To Town!

Notes & News

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

What's the song? "Up on the roof-tops, quick, quick, quick. There on the house-tops goes good St. Nick..." That's not exactly how it goes, but it's close. Well, Antioch does it one better; Antioch's Santa Claus comes by fire-truck!

Be sure not to miss the third annual Christmas Parade '86 at 10 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 29 on Main St. in Antioch. Afterwards your little ones can visit Santa at his "Enchanted Castle."

During the parade, keep a look out for a group of Santa's elves. They're the Cub Scouts from Pack 192 who have made their own costumes for the occasion. These cubs sure are busy! At their last pack meeting they had a uniform inspection conducted by Antioch Police Dept.'s own "Officer Friendly." They also plan to go Christmas caroling at Antioch's three senior citizen complexes and McDonalds in their elf costumes. Won't that be cute?

This week's snow is timely; traditionally the day after Thanksgiving Day is the start of the Christmas season. Antioch will be right on schedule with the annual Tree Lighting ceremony at 7 p.m., Nov. 28 on the Village Hall lawn. Don't miss it!

The address for letters to Santa is: Santa, 100 Toyland Rd., Antioch, IL, 60002. Just drop it in Santa's mailbox; no postage is needed.

In case you missed last week's Christmas bazaar and toy sale, never fear; another "goody" is on the horizon. The Country Cousins will present their third Christmas craft sale

Dec. 5-7 at the Antioch Scout House, 741 Main St. Crafts of all kinds, from country to Victorian, will be featured.

Antioch Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 2 at the State Bank of Antioch. Special speaker will be Eva Dooley, pastor's wife, teacher of New Testament Greek, and a U.S. delegate to the International Prayer Assembly in Seoul, S. Korea. There will be a $1.50 admission charge.

Glad all went well and best wishes for a speedy recovery to Gary Wilke, already recuperating at home after major surgery.

All participating were "stars" as the Antioch Viking Football Featherweight League completed its season with the annual All-Star game. The Beagle team, comprised of members from the Bears and Eagles and coached by Patrick Podstawa and Lee Loecher, beat the Rai-Hawk team (Raiders and Seahawks), coached by Chuck Grasser and Bob Malson, 19-6.

At the end of three quarters of well-rounded play, the score was 7-6. Scoring for the Rai-Hawks was Brian Grasser who made an alert play on the ball. Using a platoon system, the Beagles scoring went: Bear offense, seven points; Eagles offense, six points; and Bear defense, six points.

The most valuable players for the game were: Beagles offense, Mike Roman; Beagles defense, John Stedl; Rai-Hawks offense, Brian Grasser; and Rai-Hawks defense, Tim Brand.

The Antioch Viking Football organization held its Awards Night on Tuesday, Nov. 18. The over 200 parents, players, and cheerleaders enjoyed the refreshments, donated gifts to the program, and the featured speakers.

Steve Wapon, ACHS Varsity Football coach, addressed the Lightweight and Featherweight League. He stressed, "staying champions doesn't come easy; it takes hard work and dedication." He also showed the need of keeping up with studying both for the sake of the individual and team. Nick Pappadakis, the league president, praised the parents and community for their support and is already looking forward to next year.

Most improved player awards were given to Travis Boom and Chris Gluck on the Heavyweight team, and David Nolte and Keith Deperschmidt on the Lightweight team. ACHS Freshman coach John Walker was the featured speaker for the Featherweight League.

The cheerleaders weren't forgotten either. They were given pins and achievement certificates. Helping to make this a banner year were Diana Pappadakis, traveling team cheerleading coordinator and Jan Wilke, Featherweight coordinator. Mrs. Wilke was assisted by team mothers Debbie Tomec (Eagles), Pat Santiamo and Darlene Hammer (Bears), Char Crippen (Raiders), and Pat Boehm (Seahawks). Also helping to make the year a success were Tammy Krause and Cori Grandsart who held a cheerleading clinic earlier in the season.

Get well soon wishes are in effect for Einar Petersen, one of Antioch's native sons. He is now recuperating at home.

Let's not forget those less fortunate than us during this festive season. The First National Bank of Antioch is sponsoring a matinee showing of the movie "Annie" at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 29, to benefit the Antioch Community Food Pantry. Admission to the Antioch Theatre at that time will be one or more non-perishable food items which will then be donated to the Food Pantry.

When I Think About It

by GLORIA DAVIS

Thanksgiving Day 1945 had people all over the USA bowing their grateful heads in gratitude that the worst world war in history was over and the madmen that started the whole thing were either dead or being punished.

Nothing but good things were on the horizon.

While President Harry Truman was carving his family's bird, the people in Hiroshima and Nagasaki were not feeling very thankful.

But what the heck, Thanksgiving is a purely American holiday anyway!

By the next Thanksgiving an American President, who shouldn't have been elected for the only fourth Presidential term in history, gave one-third of Europe and all its peoples away to the Communists at Yalta.

Subsequent Thanksgiving Days saw the advent of the Korean and Vietnam conflicts and American heads were bent as much in invocation as in appreciation.

Then big-time terrorism exploded upon the world scene, Israeli Olympians were senselessly slaughtered and the Games went on.

But that too happened somewhere else and just as many turkeys were consumed in the United States that year.

Since then many American Thanksgiving tables have been touched by terrorism, from the Iranian hostages down to David Jacobsen and the assassinations of a President, a potential President, a civil rights leader and a famous rock star have taken place.

Wonderful things like the drug and AIDS epidemics, the problem of drinking homicidal drivers, the growing desolation of the American family and the controversial sex revolution became a predominate part of the American scenario.

But we still gather around the family table the last Thursday of November in memory of the first big communal feast held by those that founded this country, one destined to soar in magnificence and crawl in degradation.

Maybe things like an American grammar school student going to Russia to talk peace with the Soviet high command keeps us resetting that holiday table.

Maybe the renewal of patriotism given us by kids like Bart Connors and Mary Lou Retton made us proud to celebrate Thanksgiving after the 1984 Olympics.

In 1986 it might be the increasing success of the national push against drunken drivers and dope addiction, even though home plate is still at a distance in those situations.

The fact that tavern owners everywhere are suffering financially is not something to be thankful for, but the opposing factor that we are all drinking less, is.

Now that the world is much smaller than it used to be, we are beginning to realize that what might start on the other side of the world, will effect us. We are our brother's keeper.

This is the year that we began to understand the real meaning of the phrase, "People who need people, are the luckiest people in the world."

We should be thankful for the flame of caring that was exhibited with the "We Are The World" concerts and the "Hands Across America" volunteer benefit.

Hopefully this year there will be with a longer list of things to be grateful for than ever before.

Business Leaders Offer Economic Forecasts

by SUSAN MONTGOMERY

Lake County, one of the fastest-growing counties in Illinois, offers distinct advantages to developers and industry eyeing the county's widely available land, but a number of external forces continue to work against this opportunity for expansion.

With an eye on the potential industry the county could attract, Jack Miller, president and chief executive officer of the Quill Corp., in Lincolnshire, told a group of the county's business leaders that Lake County officials must work together with local community governments in order to enhance its appeal to outside businesses.

"Local governments should understand that there's going to be change (in Lake County) whether they like it or not," he said.

A major hindrance, he added, has been the struggle of local community groups to fight development. Also, construction of new roads in the county has not kept pace with the influx of new industry.

"We must find a way of working together for the common good," Miller said.

Among the innumerable advantages the county offers are a large labor pool that reaches out to communities as far west as Round Lake and Wauconda, availability of land, and close proximity to fine residential communities for corporate executives.

Miller, one of three panel speakers at an economic forecast luncheon sponsored by the Lake Forest Graduate School of Management, also discussed the implications of the 1986 tax reform on the county's entrepreneurial enterprises.

Citing the Quill Corp., supplier of office products to businesses nationwide, as an example of "what can happen as a result of free market," Miller said the barometer of activity in the automation industry has decreased by comparison to the rapid growth rate experienced 10 years ago.

"It's not the same at all. Profit margins are being squeezed, wages have increased and prices (of equipment) are up" resulting in a slower growth rate, he said.

At a time when major foreign corporations are buying up American firms, businesses have been going through a shake-up.

"Businesses that are well-run, well managed will prosper," he said. "There was a period of shock about unmet expectations, getting less in profits. The smart ones reorganized their expectations and cut out frills."

"The marketplace will lead us, or force us, to continue to become more competitive. We'll see big bloodshed; the ones to stay are the ones who roll up their sleeves," Miller said.

In an effort to become lean and competitive, businesses will see little growth at the middle management level, he predicted.

Like Miller, panelist J. William Baker, vice president of First Chicago Corp. and chairman of the Lake County Economic Planning Commission, emphasized the need for cooperation with community groups in a county that runs the gamut from bedroom communities along the North Shore and to the south, recreational in the Chain O' Lakes area to agriculture.

Rather than allowing the county's "schizophrenic" nature to pull it in different directions, he said Lake County residents should be encouraged to work together, and run for county government.

"We've got some real boobs in Waukegan. We need to work on infrastructure; we need to attract business," he said.

"It's going to take courageous leaders to get the county from where we are now to where we ought to be five years from now."

Announce Deadline

The deadline for school districts to file their tax levies with the county clerk's office is rapidly approaching, according to Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

"School districts must file their tax levies with our office by the last Tuesday in December, which is Dec. 30," said Hess.

The secretary of each district is required to file a certified copy of their tax levy with the Tax Extension and Redemption division of the county clerk's office. This office is located on the sixth floor (Room 601) of the County Building in Waukegan.

"In addition, districts that are required to hold public hearings to comply with the Truth in Taxation Act must file a certification signed by the district's chief presiding officer indicating that a public hearing was held," Hess noted.

The Tax Extension and Redemption Dept. can be reached at (312) 360-6657 if the school districts have any questions about filing the levies with the county clerk's office.

Now That Smokeout Is Over, Here's Some Smokers' Tips

Now that the Great American Smokeout is over for another year, many smokers will breathe a sigh of relief that the pressure for them to stop smoking will slacken. Some of those people will have actually kicked the smoking habit, but a great many will give in and light up another cigarette.

It's not easy to kick a habit like smoking, and maybe we should all realize that. We have compassion for those who become addicted to drugs and alcohol; why not have compassion for those who smoke?

It's doubtful that many smokers don't realize the dangers associated with smoking. We've all heard the statistics: for every cigarette you smoke, you lose five-and-a-half minutes from your life. Tobacco smoke not only contains the dangerous chemicals, tar and nicotine, but formaldehyde, hydrogen cyanide, carbon monoxide and many other hazardous substances. Smokers are far more likely to get cancer or die of heart disease. Now, scientific studies have proven that smokers endanger not only their own health, but also the health of those around them from sidestream smoke.

Of course, it's logical to not smoke. Unfortunately, when you're caught up in a habit, logic doesn't count for much. Most smokers feel guilty about that, and would probably like to really quit—forever.

Not everyone can quit smoking "cold turkey." Virtually everyone agrees that you have to want to quit a habit before you can actually be successful at quitting. But it often can take a long time for someone to reach the point where they want to quit.

So what can be done to help smokers reach the point where they want to quit?

Showing compassion and understanding will probably help much more than reinforcing negative thoughts like, "You're going to die if you don't..."

Researchers have also found that it takes more vitamin E than the seven International Units we normally get in our diet to be effective, but we don't need to take megadoses. Four hundred international units have been found to be a safe level of supplementation.

Obviously, the best way to protect yourself and others from the harmful physical effects of smoking is to stop smoking. But, if you can't stop right now, you can at least help yourself, or those around you who smoke, by making sure their diet includes natural source vitamin E.

For more information about tobacco smoke and your health, or stop-smoking programs, contact your local Lung Assn., the American Cancer Society, or your doctor.

Gear Christmas Ties To His Occupation

Let his career be a guide when shopping for a tie gift for the man on one's list this year, according to the Neckwear Association of America, Inc.

Here are some hints from NAA on how to choose the right tie for the career man:

Banking or Finance: Choose conservative patterns reflecting his stability and maturity of judgment. The very popular neat, all-over prints of classic British regiments would be good choices for the Adam Smith type.

Doctor: There is a lot more diversity in this occupation, and hence a broader range of choices. Stick with conservative looks such as club figure patterns and neat stripes, but choose from the new range of tie colors such as teal and rose. Many doctors wear bow ties, and since they are enjoying a revival, there is a wide selection available. However, if he doesn't wear it, don't buy it.

Lawyer: Elegant neckwear is the way to go for the legal eagle. Designer name ties are perfect, because they transmit the feeling of success and affluence so important to a lawyer's image. Neat polka dots and hounds tooth wovens, will draw raves from any fashion jury.

Politician: Color choice is important with the people's choice, because elected officials are in the business of being noticed, but not being conspicuous. Definitely go for the "power look" colors like reds and yellows.

Advertising and Marketing: Run some trend setting neckwear up the flagpole for this professional, like the new European inspired florals and geometric prints in the latest colors such as teal and green.

Professor/Teacher: Something tweedy fits in with that academic feeling. Wool plaids or the dressier wool challis prints are perfect.

Christmas Giving A Generous Time

The tradition of giving presents at Christmas began as a celebration of joy on that first Christmas Eve long ago. Gold, frankincense and myrrh were the gifts brought by the three kings who journeyed from afar on that starry night to gaze in wonder upon the tiny babe who was to save humanity. It was then that the spirit of giving was born, a spirit which, centuries later, continues to live and grow in each of us.

Today, as ever before, the holiday season inspires kindness and generosity, for at no other time of the year is the air so full of the magic of giving. Shop windows are filled with miniature fairylands of elves merrily mirroring our own joyful bustling as we hurry about, arms full of red-ribboned packages, in search of just the right gifts.

Our hearts thrill with anticipation at the joy of surprising loved ones with a gift from beneath the shimmering tree.

The rustling of wrapping and bows on Christmas morning heightens the excitement as the children unwrap the toys that Santa has left piled beneath the tree and overflowing from brightly colored stockings.

But don't miss the glow in grandma's eyes as she unwraps the new nightgown that's been chosen just for her, or the next door neighbor's happy surprise at finding the gaily wrapped gingerbread men you've left on the doorstep.

It seems that even if the days of waiting up for Santa have long passed, each and every one, whatever the age may be, is filled with a child's glee and laughter as we open our own special gifts.

Probably one of the most beautiful things about giving gifts at Christmas is that it brings people together.

Merriment abounds as families gather to feast on plum pudding and roast turkey, and old friends join hands as they share a toast or kiss beneath the mistletoe.

Bringing a holiday present is the perfect reason for visiting friends and relatives that may not have been seen for a long time.

Whether it's something that they've always wanted, or a batch of freshly baked holiday treats, it's just the chance to let them know how special they are.

What makes Christmas giving all the more special is that, so often, it reaches beyond the immediate circle of friends and family, bringing love and hope to those who are less fortunate.

Small children learn the joy of giving as they bring canned foods and small gifts to schools and churches, helping to make up Christmas baskets for children in orphanages and hospitals.

Often, during the holiday season, church groups will sing carols or perform plays in homes for the elderly. In this way, they bring laughter and companionship to those for whom a bright smile and a hug are the most precious gifts of all.

When a gift is given with love, whether it's a hug and a candy cane, or something we've saved and searched for, it will be the right gift because of the happiness that it is sure to bring. And that happiness will, in itself, ensure that the tradition and spirit of Christmas giving will live on in hearts forever.

Aquarium Ideal Gift For Family

Of all Christmas presents, perhaps the most beloved is a living gift such as an aquarium filled with tropical fish. Colorful, varied and sure to be enjoyed by the lucky recipient, it's also easy to maintain and adds a unique decorative touch to family room, living room or den.

In fact, a recent study by researchers at the University of Pennsylvania concluded it is even a benefit in relieving stress.

Bestowing a home aquarium upon a friend, relative or one's own children has many positive benefits. Throughout the U.S., 10 million aquariums are being enjoyed in homes, offices, restaurants and hotels.

In order to select the best aquarium for the money, one that's filled with colorful tropical fish and easy to maintain, it's a good idea to do a little investigating.

First, locate a good dealer. Ask a friend who has an aquarium; otherwise the phone book lists most tropical fish retailers.

It is advisable to purchase a book that provides complete instructions on setting up and maintaining an aquarium.

One basic rule to follow, however, is to buy the largest aquarium possible since the greater the water environment, the less chance of water problems.

When determining where to put the new aquarium, consider several factors. Don't put it in direct sunlight, since this will cause algae to grow on the glass and plastic accessories.

One will also need a quality filter. A dealer can give the proper advice since there are several types of filters and needs will vary with the size of the aquarium. If one is going to keep a lot of fish, one will also want a separate air pump to add oxygen to the water.

After deciding on the aquarium, the first accessory will be a tightly fitting canopy cover equipped with a fluorescent fixture. Fluorescent fixtures throw off a cool light and will not cause fluctuations in the water temperature.

While on the subject of water temperature, tropical fish require an environment maintained at around 75 degrees Fahrenheit (25 Celsius). Therefore, a good heater and aquarium thermometer are needed.

A recent development in this technology is the liquid crystal digital thermometer which affixes to the outside of the aquarium yet measures most accurately the water temperature.

A dealer can give the proper advice since there are several types of filters, and needs will vary with the size of the aquarium.

Decorating an aquarium is great fun. There are multi-colored gravels, highly decorative backgrounds and hundreds of ornaments, as well as plastic plants so real in reproduction it's almost impossible to distinguish them from live plants.

Most good retailers will have a complete assortment and the selection should be based on the size of the aquarium and the amount of money to be spent.

Only a few fish should be put in the aquarium initially. After three to four weeks, assuming everything is functioning properly, go ahead and add the rest of the fish.

Aquarium maintenance is a lot simpler than people think. Every two weeks a partial water change (not greater than 20 percent) by siphoning the water from the bottom of the aquarium is all that is required.

On a daily basis, of course, fish should be fed and a good quality flake food will provide a complete diet for almost all fish.

Tropical fish are beautiful, easy to maintain and provide a lifetime hobby.

For more information write Tetra Sales,

201 Tabor Rd., Morris Plains, N.J. 07950.

NOVEL AND ENTERTAINING, an aquarium filled with tropical fish makes an ideal Christmas present for that very special someone. Adults will appreciate it as an eye-catching conversation piece while, for children, an aquarium provides an excellent learning experience which is also an enjoyable hobby. If you're interested in purchasing an aquarium, the experts at Tetra Sales are offering an informative full-color illustrated starter booklet. For a free copy, write Tetra Sales, 201 Tabor Rd., Morris Plains, NJ 07950.

Christmas Programs Varied

Take time out and celebrate the holiday season with the Waukegan Public Library's Annual Christmas Program on Wednesday, Dec. 3. This year's theme will be "Celebrate Waukegan...Where Cultures Blend" with a morning program at 10 a.m. and an evening program at 7 p.m.

The morning program will include a dramatic monologue of the story "Journey to Christmas" by Norma Cribb, a member of the Waukegan Community Players, and music by the Afro-American choir from Waukegan West High School.

The evening program will contain a musical interlude by members of the Hispanic Presbyterian Church and a special Dickensian drama by Egon Schein who will include his portrayal of Scrooge.

Each program will have demonstrations of the following: Scents of Christmas (pot-pourri), Chrismons (religious ornaments), origami, pinecone wreaths, Renaissance angels, decorative stationery (a.m. only), Pfefferkuchen, candy houses, Christmas figures, and a book display by B. Dalton Booksellers.

A highlight of the programs will be the annual visit of Santa as he surprises the visitors who have managed to be good this past year.

Help Celebrate With Gifts From The Heart

What makes this the warmest, most wonderful time of the year? Traditions. The brightly lit tree... the pleasant aroma of homemade goodies... the stockings hung by the chimney... and most of all, the perfect gifts people choose for friends and relatives, add a festive touch to our Christmas celebration.

This season, add extra warmth and pizzazz to the holiday with charming gift packages one can easily make themselves.

And, when filled with treasured gifts or edible treats they become gifts themselves to be cherished for years to come.

Unfinished wicker baskets and wooden Shaker boxes are easily transformed into colorful gift containers when dyed in hearty Christmas colors of scarlet and forest green.

Trimmed with ribbon or holly, and lined with a pretty lace hanky (also dyeable), baskets become a unique way to package a variety of small gifts for that special someone.

Simply dip the basket in a hot concentrated dye solution (dissolving one package powder dye, or half-cup liquid dye to two quarts of hot water; rinse in cool water.)

For a softer color, thoroughly wet the basket first. For a more intense color, sponge or paint the dye directly onto the dry basket. Let the basket dry completely. Spray dyed basket inside and out with a clear plastic finish.

To make tasty homemade delectables a delight even before they're eaten, present them in a decorated Shaker box reminiscent of old folk art.

Simply tape a stencil of a familiar Christmas motif onto the lid of an unfinished Shaker box. Brush dye solution into cut-out areas. Let dry and remove stencil. Spray with protective clear plastic finish. Then tie it all together with a contrasting satin ribbon.

A bottle of holiday cheer is the perfect gift of appreciation for friendly neighbors and holiday hosts.

This year "bag it" in an attractive leather satchel made of chamois and rich colors of chestnut brown, wine and forest green.

Simply wet a two-foot chamois cloth (found in discount stores) thoroughly in warm water and immerse in dye-bath following sink method on bottle or package of dye. Rinse very well and smooth. Dry away from sunlight.

Cut in half, turn leather on wrong side. Measure gift bottle width and stitch down on both sides. Turn right side up. Make small snips in leather about two inches from top. Weave a two-foot long leather shoelace, yarn or cord through holes. Draw string to close. The result: a perfect reusable keepsake your friends and relatives will appreciate for years to come!

How about adding a little excitement to the tradition of exchanging gifts with friends and relatives? This year, take a cue from Ol' Saint Nick and deliver your heart-warming presents the North Pole way—over the back in Santa's sack!

Take a white or light-colored cotton or cotton-blend pillow case. Then dye it in traditional Christmas colors of scarlet or forest green, or choose the favorite fashion colors of fuchsia or periwinkle blue using the washing machine method.

To make the drawstring, use the already made hem at the top, and insert a cord through the other side. One can personalize the sack by printing the surname of the relative or friend with dye in a contrasting color using an artist's brush and hot concentrated dye solution.

Or, to satisfy artistic whims, paint familiar Christmas motifs—stars, trees, angels—all over the bag to make holiday surprises more exciting. After designed fabric is dry, press with warm iron to help set the colors. Protect the bag with soil resistant spray.

These holiday packages provide the perfect compliment to gift-giving traditions and are guaranteed to make this Christmas one you'll always remember.

For more craft and gift ideas write to: Rit/6C, P.O. Box 307, Coventry, Conn. 06238.

Thinking Up Gift Ideas

Instead of wandering through the stores hoping to come upon the right gifts for the men in one's life (always the most difficult), do some advance planning by thinking in categories.

Upon deciding on a category, one will be better able to think of an item—or at least limit themselves to certain stores or departments.

Here are some examples to start thinking about:

Keepsakes: Coins and stamps are a possibility (flea markets are a good place to look). A family or individual portrait—traditional or humorous—is uniquely personal. Museum reproductions (from rugs to sculptures) make exciting alternatives.

Step-up: Lightweight silk long underwear provides more warmth without bulk for outdoor winter activities. Does he appreciate elegance? A classy pen and pencil set for office and/or jacket pocket will be with him wherever he goes.

Books about his interests are a good bet. Or maybe buy him a subscription to a special interest magazine, journal or newsletter to keep happy reminders of Christmas arriving regularly throughout the year.

Of Dishonest Baboons And Other Presidents

by JOHN STEINKE

Name-calling and bare-knuckle tactics that enlivened the 1986 election may have seemed rough. But they were tame stuff when matched with the vicious invective, dirty tricks and colossal blunders of elections past. Critics called Abraham Lincoln "a dishonest baboon," Grover Cleveland, "a lecherous beast;" and Jimmy Carter, the kind of fellow "who couldn't get the Pledge of Allegiance through Congress," to cite some typical examples.

Steinke On Politics

But the dirtiest campaign probably was the 1884 presidential election. In one corner was Democrat Grover Cleveland, who was attacked as "the town drunk" and "a coarse debaucher." The Republicans nominated Congressman James G. Blaine of Maine. The Democrats charged that Blaine was "an unrestrained public plunderer" and "had wallowed in spoils like a rhinoceros in an African pool."

Blaine's reputation as a politician with his fingers in the cookie jar was too much for the reform wing of his party. They were known as Mugwumps because they had their mugs on one side of the fence and their wumps on the other. Among the Republicans refusing to support the party choice was the New York political boss, Roscoe Conkling. He had been offended when Blaine called him "a dunghill." Conkling was a lawyer, and when a reporter asked whether he would support Blaine, he responded, "I do not engage in criminal practice."

Grover Cleveland was an unusual species of a 19th century politician. He was an honest man, at least in his public life. Ten days after his presidential nomination, a Buffalo newspaper claimed that Cleveland had fathered a child by a widow, Marie Halpin, eight years earlier. Cleveland admitted that he might be the kid's papa.

The Democratic nominee conceded that he wasn't sure about the relationship, but he had contributed to the child's support. Republicans paraded around shouting, "Ma, ma, where's my pa?" To which Democrats yelled back: "Gone to the White House, ha, ha, ha!" The ministry was divided on the election. One preacher declared that the campaign issue was "between the brothel and the home, between lust and law." But the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, who supported Cleveland, declared that if every New Yorker who had broken the seventh commandment voted for him, he'd carry the state by 200,000 votes.

On Oct. 29, 1884, Blaine campaigned in New York City. Welcoming Blaine to the city at New York's Fifth Avenue Hotel, the Rev. Samuel D. Burchard turned to the Republican aspirant and said: "We are Republicans, and don't propose to leave our party and identify ourselves with the party whose antecedents have been Rum, Romanism and Rebellion." While Blaine maintained a 72-hour silence before issuing a rejoinder, the Democrats circulated Burchard's statement to Catholic churches around the country.

The 1884 presidential election was extremely close, with only 23,000 votes separating the two-major party candidates. Cleveland garnered 48.9 percent of the popular vote to Blaine's 48.3 percent. The Democrats captured New York and its 36 electoral votes by a scant 1,000 votes. Grover Cleveland defeated James Blaine in the electoral college, 219-to-182. The country may have been following the advice of a Chicago observer: "We are told that Mr. Blaine has been delinquent in office but blameless in public life, while Mr. Cleveland has been a model of official integrity but culpable in his personal relations. We should therefore elect Mr. Cleveland to the public office which he is so well qualified to fill and remand Mr. Blaine to the private station which he is admirably fitted to adorn."

Compliance Getting Better, Walling Tells Chamber

Illinois businesses, while not complying with employee right-to-know laws 100 percent, are getting better in their compliance.

That's the opinion of a state bureaucrat whose job it is to monitor state programs involving toxic waste right-to-know laws.

"The Disclosure Act was signed in 1983 by the governor and since it has been passed, compliance has not been perfect but it is getting better," Tom Walling, director of the Illinois Dept. of Labor's Safety Program, said.

Walling was speaking to a group of people which includes people whose job it is to meet those compliances - the Waukegan-Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

Walling gave a wide-ranging speech at the November meeting of the chamber.

He said, in order to comply with the toxic waste portion of the department's regulations, businesses must do six things. These are: post a right-to-know sign, a summary of employee rights; acquire a Material Safety Data Sheet (MSDS) for each toxic substance in the work place; submit to the Illinois Dept. of Labor a list of all substances for which one has a MSDS; label all toxic substances in the work place; provide annual training for employees who are exposed to toxic substances and contact the local fire departments.

Walling said it is important that the fire departments know what is in a place of business before they go in and fight fires.

Officials are trying to streamline the lengthy list of hazardous materials through various agencies.

"Dealing with all the forms I'm sure can be a frustrating experience," Walling said.

Walling also discussed the state regulations regarding carnivals.

He said stickers must be placed on rides after being inspected annually.

If a ride is shut down by the operator, it does not have to be reported to the state. But the state inspectors do have the authority to shut rides down if they are found unsafe.

CLC Sponsors Trip To Italy

By taking a trip to Italy this spring, students can earn one to three humanities credits at the College of Lake County. The 17-day study-tour of Italy will run from May 17 to June 2, 1987, and will include 10 Italian cities, giving students a view of both ancient and modern Italy.

CLC Spanish instructor Mario Maculan and art instructors Nancy Cook and Dan Ziembo will lead the tour. All three have traveled to Italy before and are eager to share their expertise with students. Maculan speaks fluent Italian and has family in Italy. Ziembo has spent time in Rome photographing and sketching; Cook recently took a sabbatical from her teaching duties to videotape Italian art and architectural treasures. These tapes are now used in her art and architecture history classes.

By pooling their expertise, the three instructors will acquaint participants with Italian culture including the people, customs, food, art and architecture of the major geographical and cultural centers. Milan, Venice, Florence and Rome will be visited as well as Sorrento, Pompeii and the Italian Riviera. Vicenza, Ravenna, Lake Garda and other "off the beaten track" areas not usually on a tour of Italy will also be included.

Cost for the tour is $1,817 and includes air fare, touring by luxury coach bus, old world hotels and regional food. Itineraries and sign up applications are available in the Humanities office on the Grayslake campus, room B252 or call (312) 223-6601, ext. 550 for more information.

An informational meeting and a slide/video presentation highlighting the trip will be held at 8 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 8 in room A216 on the Grayslake campus.

Business Still Needs Help

With Gov. James Thompson's penchant for making deals with labor and the fact that the Democrats still have a lock on both houses in the General Assembly, it's a wonder that there is a fair amount of optimism for a pro-business political climate in Illinois politics. A close look at reality in what's going on in Springfield belies any good feeling about business prospects at all.

If anything, Republicans are getting good PR mileage in their efforts to create a pro-business atmosphere. That's the only way to explain the more than $1 million kicked in by the business community for political action committees in the Nov. 4 election and other contributions to gain favorable business representation.

The agenda of business needs remains pretty much the same—reforms in Illinois' worker and unemployment compensation laws still are badly needed. These should be uppermost when the 85th General Assembly gets down to work next year as it will overhaul unreasonably high liability insurance costs where only the surface was scratched last season.

Gov. Thompson blusters a good deal with his "Build Illinois" projects as benefits to business. If he really wants to improve the business climate he should see that work comp and UI relief is enacted.

Complaint Misses The Mark

Elsewhere on this page is a letter to the editor from Marv Smith, a trustee of the village of Grayslake. Smith objects to an editorial praising the mayor of Burlington, Wis., claims that our reporting on Grayslake is "extremely negative," and takes specific exception to our coverage of the Heartland settlement.

To offer specific praise does not imply general criticism of all others not mentioned. When we ran recent editorials praising Grayslake for its successful negotiations with Intrupa and Grayslake Mayor Ed Schroeder for his tax abatement initiative, the mayor of Burlington did not feel compelled to call us with a complaint that we had not mentioned him.

A review of each Grayslake Times for the last three months revealed that, of stories that can be identified as negative or positive, nearly 80 percent were positive.

The Heartland agreement remains the subject of controversy throughout the area. In our news story on the subject, we simply quoted people on both sides of the issue—including Marvin Smith. In his editorial column, "Just Politics," managing editor Charles Johnston criticized the board for its action and, in the process, echoed sentiments similar to those of Grayslake Trustee Charles Lucas and Mayor Schroeder.

It is a frequent failing of sensitive public officials to read four positive stories, one negative story, and then complain about bad press. If Smith wants a positive story from the Grayslake Times to use for his brochure, he might try any of the following from recent issues: "Bright News About Area's Economy; Grayslake Students Excel In College; Visiting Teacher Likes What He Sees; Businessmen Enjoy Chance To See Growth," among many others.

We will continue to reflect the character of the communities that we cover, reporting positive news when it happens and negative news when it happens.

Pay Slide

A certain amount of political chic has been involved of late in talking about "low-tech, high return," meaning that society and the jobs picture can benefit by concentrating on mundane manufacturing. So be it. The facts are irrefutable, however, of a shift from high-pay to low-pay jobs in Illinois. From 1980 to 1985, manufacturing jobs of all types declined from 24.9 percent to 20.6 percent. At the same time, service and retail jobs rose from 35.7 percent to 40.4 percent, according to figures provided by the office of Illinois Comptroller Roland W. Burris. Bluntly put, it appears that the situation is "low-tech, low-pay," no matter how the politicians rhapsodize over the benefits to society of creating jobs making clothespins and paper clips.

Letters To The Editor:

Whose Rights?

Editor:

Recently, Jim Dolan said he didn't approve of the Libertyville Township Open Space program because it infringes on people's rights. He must be talking about the rights of the wealthy land speculators who buy farmland cheap, have it rezoned for high density development and then sell it with a profit to a developer; or wealthy developers who build more and more congested housing projects, make a large profit and then move on to a virgin area to start their destructive process all over again. Meanwhile, the taxes skyrocket to pay for all the public services that are required as more people move into an area.

Doesn't he ever think of the rights of the average citizen? The citizens who would like to live in a "beautiful place in the country" and have some vacant land around them. These average citizens cannot afford to buy large parcels of land to protect their quality of life, unless they get together, pool their money and purchase this open space. The voters in Libertyville Township have done exactly that; they have voted to preserve the land and have voted to pay for it. Now Mr. Dolan is worrying about people's rights. Average citizens have rights too! Whose rights are you protecting, Mr. Dolan?

William A. Schalck
Wildwood

Editor's note: Jim Dolan is a member of the Lake County Board representing Dist. 5 of Warren, Libertyville and Vernon townships.

More Clippings

Editor:

I read with interest your editorial, "Here's Mayor Who's Selling His Community." I have enclosed a packet of information that has been developed to promote our town, just as Burlington, Wis. has for their town.

Several years ago Grayslake established an Economic Development Commission. The current membership of the Commission is made up of two village trustees, a Chamber of Commerce representative, a Grayslake Development Commission member, and the President of the Grayslake National Bank. The director of the commission is an enthusiastic young man who is our fulltime administrative assistant for the Village of Grayslake.

Through the efforts of the Commission and Director Mike Ellis, we were able to convince Intrupa Manufacturing to relocate from Chicago to our community. We were also able to help secure funds for Gem Tours so they could construct a modern facility for their operation in our town. We also were successful in obtaining a grant from the State of Illinois to pay 100 percent of the cost of a much needed sewer and water line to an, as yet, undeveloped industrial park for our town.

You might also notice our packet of information includes a newspaper clipping. The clipping we are using is from the Chicago Sun-Times. We would have liked to have included a clipping from the Grayslake Times, however most of what is written about our community in your paper is extremely negative.

A recent example is your reporting on the Heartland settlement. Most of Charles Johnston's article insinuated foolishness on the village board's part. Is it foolishness to resolve a 60 million dollar lawsuit that the citizens of your community would have to pay if we lost? Is it foolish to secure a de-annexation of properties from a neighboring community in the hopes that this property will ultimately come under your control and benefit your citizens? Is it foolish to require a large tract of property to apply for an-

New Singles Twist Latest Attraction In South Florida

by BILL SCHROEDER

If you can imagine six lanes of high speed traffic roaring along only a half block away from a serene palm shaded spot bathed by balmy breezes, then you can picture the contrasts of south Florida.

While a pre-holiday sojourn to Ft. Lauderdale provided an opportunity to enjoy the shade and balmy breezes (plus one day of incessant rain), the contrasts of that Sun Belt center left us agape.

Building of all shapes and sizes is going on without any regard for occupancy, acceptance or need. We saw 100 percent new shopping centers totally vacant and evidence of short-term trial tenants protruding bleakly on a landscape where ground is being broken for more shopping centers. The rush to build in south Florida is maddening when there are not enough tenants now to fill demand. Maybe the new tax law will change this.

South Florida has become a polyglot of nationalities. Some folks call it a melting pot. A few call it cosmopolitan. Most refer to the condition in terms that can't be repeated in a family newspaper.

South Florida is getting as zany as California. I thought my brother-in-law was spoofing me about "Supermarket Singles Night" until I heard a radio commercial enticing the unmarrieds with prizes, games, food samples and "an opportunity to meet people with similar interests." Like, how much are the peas? Is the hamburger special a bargain? Anyway, singles night shopping at one chain supermarket is the latest fad in Broward County. Whatever became of mechanical bronc busting?

South Florida's latest scourge, according to old-timers and long-timers is the growing number of young female pilots of high powered Japanese sports cars. Every trip on an expressway is a LeMans experience for the post teenage drivers who lane hop with reckless abandon and "sling-shot" themselves across lanes whenever they spot an opening ahead. I saw the distaff daredevils and the sight leaves you limp.

If you can keep cool under a palm tree, south Florida still is a neat place to visit, but I'm glad I'm married. By the way, I think I've conquered Florida fairways. I broke 50 in my only golfing excursion.

MINCEMEAT DELIGHT—Now that we're in the holiday season, let's think about one of the genuine culinary delights—mincemeat pie or minced pie. We're indebted to Mary Jane Lucas, Grayslake Park Dist. President, for supplying us with a 100-year-old recipe for pie crust that'll work for mince pie or any other pie. Mary Jane ran across the recipe in an 1885 copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes. I'll send you a copy of the crust recipe. Apparently that's the key thing because you're on your own for mincemeat. The author never got around to tell you how to make mince although he wrote about mince pie having religious significance. Drop me a line and I'll send you a copy.

HAPPY WRITERS—Nearly 2,000 children in Mexico will be able to write their lessons on paper as the result of the Pencils for People campaign initiated by this column and Lakeland Newspapers.

Pencils of all shapes and sizes left for Mexico Monday, carried by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gartin, who will be distributing them as they tour this winter. The Gartins, residents of Grayslake, were thrilled as they gathered up pencils contributed by readers.

"You can't imagine how much happiness this will provide the children in towns we'll be visiting. They have so little and pencils mean so much to them," exclaimed Mrs. Gartin.

Mr. and Mrs. Gartin, both retired, have been visiting Mexico regularly for more than 30 years. Pencils for People was launched by this column when Mrs. Gartin described the struggle being waged in Mexico to advance education. With an earlier start, a Pencils for People repeat is expected to be more productive next year.

HELP THIS LADY—Mrs. William Denecke, writing from Round Lake Park, requested that we publish the following notice. We're happy to oblige:

"To the people who have cats: Please buy them a litter box and keep them at home. We feed the wild birds. The cats lay under our bushes and chase the birds away. Dogs have to be kept on a leash or at home. Why not cats?"

*****

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—We've got an experiment going. To see if leaves will disintegrate over the winter if you leave (no pun intended) them alone. Leaf raking is not one of our favorite household chores. The job "escaped" us this fall due to the press of other activities. Now we'll see what happens.

nexation on your terms rather than leaving it unincorporated and thus block future expansion of your Village? Is it foolish to put severe restrictions on a possible landfill that you otherwise would have absolutely no control over because the Illinois Pollution Control Board and Illinois Environmental Protection Agency make all decisions regarding landfills?

I do not believe any of the above is foolish. I believe all of the above is in the best interest of all of our citizens. I also believe it is high time our hometown newspaper "takes pen in hand" and starts reporting events in our community on a more positive note, so we can include newspaper clippings from our local papers to promote our town.

'Expo' To Be Double Feature Wedding Show

Every prospective Lake County spring and summer bride, her groom-to-be and parents on both sides, as well as those who have been invited to be bridesmaids and groomsmen, should be making plans to attend the second annual wedding show, "Expo '87," set for Sunday, Jan. 18, at the Holiday Inn in Gurnee.

Debbie's Floral, Mundelein, and Lakeland Newspapers, the sponsors of the show, have been joined by the Hawaiian Shop from Evanston in adding special honeymoon and resort fashion shows to the "extravaganza" bridal fashion show to be done by Milady's Bridal Fashions of Bannockburn.

The Hawaiian resort and travel fashion shows, featuring casual wear for women, men and children, from the Hawaiian Shop, will be held around the Holiday Inn's pool in conjunction with a brunch.

Owner Penny Sims, having just returned from a buying trip in Hawaii, promises a colorful array of the latest prints and casual wear designs, making the resort show and the bridal fashion show an outstanding double feature super star of wedding extravaganzas.

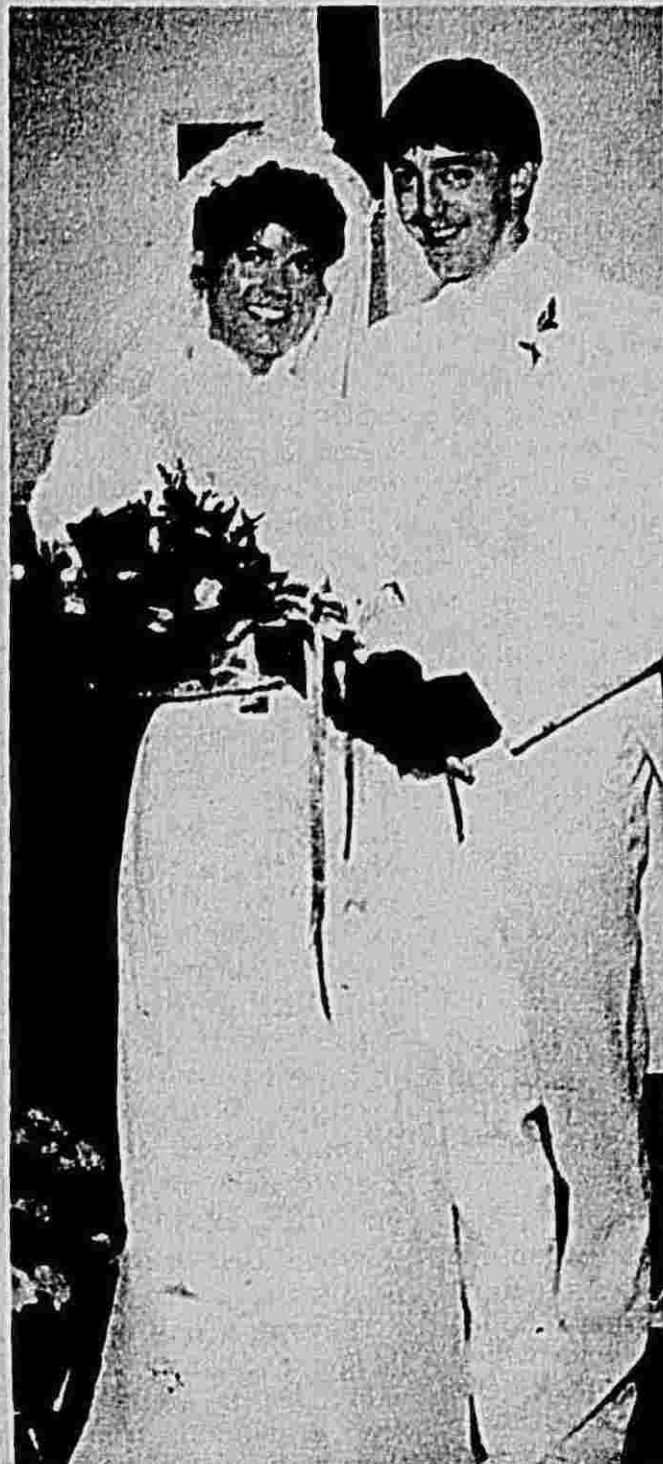

Milady's will be showing bridal gowns ranging in price from $500 to $900. Metta Behrendt, owner of Milady's, has planned her show around the newest spring and summer bridal fashions. Her gowns will be lacey and and appliqued, with long trains, yet she will feature slim sophisticated ones that have a detachable train for future wearing.

Leading the wedding parade will be teal and fuchsia attendant's gowns, cool and frothy, shown matching the cumberbunds and ties to be worn by the groomsmen who will be modeling the new "Dynasty" tuxedo designs, the star of the formalwear collection at Gingiss Formalwear, Waukegan.

Over 30 specialty firms, from photographers, to travel agencies, to limousine rental firms, to florists and dining halls will be at "Expo" to display their wares and give prospective brides and grooms more than one new idea and lots of help in planning a very special wedding day.

Tickets for the show are free and will be available at participating merchants.

Check Lakeland Newspapers for more news about "Expo 87."

Dogs Bring Cheer To Homes

by CHARLENE WHITNEY

There are a good many people who love having a dog around them, especially children. For those of you who enjoy dogs, I'll bet that you just can't see your life without one.

More and more places such as nursing homes and hospitals are beginning to see what a big difference these animals make with the patients.

this, he is on his way to fun with the children. A child will respond to a dog before a person. The animal may be better than medicine.

The dogs collect hugs and kisses from the children, and they chase balls across the hall. The children smile and, for a little while, they forget about their handicap or discomfort.

In the Chicago area, the Anti-Cruelty Society brings dogs, "Toby's Angels," to different nursing homes 13 years ago, I could see the big difference the dogs made.

When we first started going to the nursing homes, the homes weren't sure if it was allowed. Here we are now, with over 1,500 shows behind us and we have been welcomed into every nursing home in the area.

There have been voices not heard in years and smiles not shown before. One blind woman said she could see the dogs. Later we learned that she really could see them. I have seen people relate to the animals, and then turn and talk to the people next to them about the dogs. For nursing home patients, this is unusual.

People who had dogs all their lives were overjoyed to pet a dog again and tell stories about their pets. They had been missing their pet all along and this visit was filling that emptiness, for just a little while.

If you are interested in getting involved in a pet therapy program, please contact Shirley Zintak, 155 Harbor Dr., Unit 4802, Chicago, 60601. Learn what you can do to bring a changing glow into other peoples' lives.

Pet-Wise

About six months ago, a children's hospital director in Denver and two veterinarians started a program of dogs visiting the children. There was a lot of controversy about the dogs coming into a hospital.

The dogs are given baths and brushings before each visit. Before they start the rounds, a dog is given either a t-shirt or gown to wear.

Before a dog is accepted for the program, it must pass a thorough physical. The veterinarian also checks behavioral exams. The dog gets its tail pulled, ears tugged and is checked to see if sudden movement startles it.

Once the dog passes all pets to visit over 20 hospitals and health care facilities. Each visit has its own rewards.

Children and adults become delighted and alert, and look forward to the visits. They forget their problems for a while and enjoy the cuddly animals.

Kitchen Band Recalls Good Old Days

by GORDON CRANDALL

Every Monday night the music emanating from the auditorium of Leisure Village sounds like not "Spoke" Jones' madcap band. But it isn't "Spoke" because it's the "Superman Kitchen Band" weekly practice session under the art direction of Dorothy Hampf.

Dorothy is the bubbling, ebullient, eternally young senior citizen who plays the organ leading into some of the wild numbers that the 25 members of the band perform. She plays with verve and sings along with the band, her head bobbing up and down to the tempo. Her enthusiasm has its effect upon the band members. If they make a mistake or sound discordant, her hearty laughter reassures them.

For those who don't know what a Kitchen Band is, first, it's composed of volunteer men and women who are not necessarily musicians. They play mostly homemade instruments that make a lot of noise. The Village "Superman" include guitars, organ, washboard, a bucket, tambores, auto horn, cymbals, steel whistles, triangles, bells, and a real drum. plus Dorothy's organ or piano. Their injuries also include some singing and dancing acts.

This band is not limited to the confines of Leisure Village. Oh no, they have played for nursing homes and senior citizen centers all over Lake and McHenry counties and as far south as Skokie and as far west as Harvard. They especially enjoy the smiles of appreciation and applause they get from people confined to nursing homes.

The "Superman" have only been together for three years. In 1992, during a coffee break, one of the ladies asked, "Why don't we have a Leisure Village Kitchen Band?" Dorothy, who had prior experience with such a band in Chicago, gave her usual enthusiastic assent to form a group. They began with 18 members and have grown to 25, with a waiting list of other Village residents.

"What pleases me most about this Kitchen Band," Dorothy said, "is that we have a lot of fun. I don't care how we play or even make mistakes, but just to hold all these people together enjoying themselves means a lot to me."

The "Music Woman" of Leisure Village was born Dorothy Maus in 1916 in Chicago's south side. She graduated from Harrison High School, once noted for its marching bands and the great Benny Goodman.

Dorothy never had formal instruction for the organ. All she ever had was six months of piano lessons under Walter Dellara, who played with the Sagerquist Orchestra for the radio drama, "First Nighter," back in the thirties.

She learned to play the organ from her daughter, who was taking lessons. Dorothy explained, "I applied the chords from the piano to the organ, using the foot pedals instead of the left hand. And I transposed all songs in the key of F. I can't play by ear like other people."

During the depression, her brother organized a small band called "The Varsity Playboys" in connection with Hugh Seiner. Dorothy played piano, her brother the violin, and a guy named Jerry Hampf played alto saxophone. The band played all the neighborhood dances and various restaurants in Chicago.

Jerry would go over to Dorothy's house for rehearsals. Afterwards he'd take her out to the corner drugstore for a chocolate soda—only 15 cents in those pre-inflation days.

One time he took her on a really big date to Chicago's World Fair of 1933. There, he asked her to go steady with him. No proposal, just a long courtship that lasted six years until they finally wed in June, 1939. They have been together for 47 years.

Jerry couldn't live on just a "freelance musician's" wages. So he wanted to be a tool and die worker. In his first job he became the manager of adhesives for bookbinding in Chicago. His last job was in charge of the tool room for the American Farm Equipment Co.

The Hampfs lived in their home in Barrington for 27 years before moving to the Village. From 1947-52, Dorothy worked at Western Electric as an instructor for the NAC missile network, the one that tracks other missiles.

They raised only one child, daughter Sharon Zimmels, who lives in Philadelphia. She graduated from the University of Chicago with an M.S. She is presently vice-president for corporate development at Scott Paper Products.

Her husband, Joseph, is a business consultant and once owned a printing business. According to Dorothy, her son-in-law is very versatile. "Joe loves to sing and is a good M.C. when he gets going in a crowd. One time we decided to have an anniversary party. We planned on having a magician, but at the last minute he couldn't make it. But Joe put on the show himself, and it was great. We just have so much fun together with Sharon and Joe. There's no generation gap when we go out with them."

Dorothy organized her first Kitchen Band in 1954 for the P.T.A. of Whitney Elementary School on the south side of Chicago. They won the second prize in the Morris D. Sachs amateur program on radio. She received a gold watch as an additional prize.

Dorothy smiled in remembrance of that day. "With the prize money we bought all the outfits for our band and also an auxiliary for our school. There were 15-18 people at all times in the band."

"We loved to put on crazy acts. Once we did a play entitled 'The Little Red Schoolhouse.' One of the acts was an imitation of Liberace, complete with a tiny toy piano topped with candelabra. I was Liberace in talls. We even had a prop in the audience as his mother who stood up and I introduced her and gave her a flower like Liberace

Leader Of The Band

Dorothy Hampf of Leisure Village has been playing the organ since the days of the depression. She has organized a 25-member 'Kitchen Band' in Leisure Village in Fox Lake. The band plays at many functions at the village and practices every Monday Night. Hampf has played in kitchen bands in Lake, McHenry and Cook Counties.

always did."

She added, "We thought we were in good luck that we continued the band with the same mothers when our kids went on to Harrison High. We also played for all the lodges and clubs for a few more years."

Dorothy owns a Hammond organ, a church model with two manuals. She said that she plays it constantly, not only for practice but for therapy.

She inculcated this philosophy in her daughter Sharon when she was learning to play the organ. Dorothy told her, "You may never make money at it professionally, but playing the organ is good for you whenever you feel blue or depressed. Some days when you feel uptight, it is a good way to relax."

Besides playing the organ for the Kitchen Band and for resident sing-a-longs in the recreation center, Dorothy plays a mean game of bridge a couple evenings a week.

The Hampfs like to travel and have been on four cruises, once to Hawaii and three times to the Caribbean. On one cruise, Dorothy recalled with an uproarious laugh (her trademark), "The band's singer lost her bridge twice while singing. It popped out once, she put it back in her mouth, then it fell out again!"

The Hampfs moved from Barrington to Leisure Village in 1973 and have never regretted the move. What they like most about it are the townhouse duplex houses, all one level, unlike other condominiums. Also they like the idea of having 24-hour security guards. And, of course, the many dances and sing-a-longs appeal to this musical couple.

In their neatly kept house there are four clocks that chime, including one grandfather clock. It sounded like the Big Ben tower clock of London, as it chimed so loudly that it drowned out our words during the interview. But these intermittent chimes of the diversified clocks seemed a fitting setting for dynamic Dorothy's lifestyle.

At Quig's, Business Is Family's Dream

by JIM BUTSCHLI

If you take a sip of pure apple cider and relax with the folks at Quig's Orchards, you're bound to taste a special blend of Americana. The family business is filled with scenes that Norman Rockwell could capture our hearts with.

Nestled into the peaceful Mundelein countryside on Rte. 83, Quig's is an old-fashioned success story. Not so much in terms of dollars and cents, but in family, pride and tradition.

Sixteen acres and nearly 2,800 trees bear the fruits of the Quig success. Apple-related food and gift items, bakery, syrups, jams, cheeses, sausages, homemade fudge and peanut butter comprise the product offering sold at the store.

line to include apple cider, jams and doughnuts. A small hand press still has a place in the store today as a cherished reminder of the past. Today, doughnuts are a house specialty. Claiming chocolate as his personal favorite, Bob says, "We were the second orchard in northern Illinois, and for all I know, anywhere in the Midwest, to begin selling doughnuts." Cider and fudge are homemade too. It's this personal touch that equals customer satisfaction.

Bob is especially pleased with his personalized Christmas gift packs. "We make them to order and when people get one they know it was custom made for them. We try to put in quality products like pure maple syrup, cheese, a

Alan offers this tip for apple pie aficionados: "Try baking golden delicious with Jonathans for a great taste."

Alan and his wife Amy now grow plants in their greenhouse at home, selling them at the store. Their "green thumb" will be called upon in the spring, when Quig's opens a 27- by 90-foot greenhouse at their Mundelein storefront. The young couple has a one-year-old son, Brandon, who may someday be the fourth generation in the Quig family business. Alan teases, "He might be able to help us pick apples by the next fall picking season."

Bob and Marion's youngest child, Pamela, 19, is a full-time management student at the College of Lake County. She also works nearly full-time at the store. Her knack for making wooden home crafts is being put to the test now, as the Quigs hope to open a craft shop for the Christmas season.

Says Pamela, "The gifts will be handmade and revolve around apple products. We'll have apple baskets, towel racks, napkin holders, Christmas ornaments and recipe holders with handwritten recipes on them." Like Alan, she too is excited about staying with the family business for as long as possible.

With the emphasis on family, wouldn't other employees feel left out? "We try to treat our people like we would want to be treated ourselves," says Bob. Alan adds, "Our people are good people, and many of them come back and work for us season after season, and the customers know them."

The Quigs have three full-timers and anywhere from seven to 15 part-timers. More help is needed during the apple picking season, and in the summer when a family orchard in Michigan yields an "outstanding" crop of tree-ripened peaches that also stimulates stronger business volume.

When the cafe opens in spring, Alan hints that more help will be needed. Bob says, "We'd like to be open for breakfast and lunch and have seating for 45-49 people maximum." Like the store, the cafe will be designed as a place to relax and enjoy home-style foods in an informal atmosphere, without feeling rushed.

The family bond, of course, is the Quig strength. Marion, the business' inventory and pricing specialist, gets involved wherever she's needed. She says, "We have more items now than ever, and it's fun to see the business grow. It's a challenge and I hope our children stay involved."

Bob is pleased with his decision many years ago not to pursue an office job. "Nothing can be more devastating than hating your job. I've never experienced that. This family business has been real satisfying, and we love it." Bob has no formal retirement plans. He quips, "I've been retired for 40 years. Actually, I'm turning it over more and more to Alan, but I always want to be around here."

What is his secret to success? While serving customers, Bob explains, "A large percentage of our customers come here by word-of-mouth referrals, and that's the best advertising. Our customers are more like family friends, and we see many of them on a regular basis.

"The personal contact between the store owner and customers is something our customers respect. One of the nicest compliments came to us a couple months ago when one of my customers said, 'I have to tell you this: My husband said to me, let's go over and see the folks. I asked what he meant by the folks, and he said the folks at Quig's.' It's a good example of my feelings about the business and that was the biggest compliment anybody could ever pay me."

Residential Lending Representative

Ronald Erickson has been named Residential Lending Representative of St. Paul Federal Bank. With the bank since 1975, he continues as vice-president. He will be responsible for expanding residential mortgage originations and developing mortgage banking relationships. Erickson is a member of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. He resides in Mundelein with his wife, Carol and their three sons.

★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★★ Starting Your Own Business... ...The Great American Dream!

made that dream a reality.*

By the spring of 1987, the third generation family business plans to have a home-style cafe, a shop featuring hand crafted gifts and a greenhouse open for business. These additions coincide with Quig's 40th anniversary.

The Quig story began while current co-owner Bob Quig, age 62, was overseas serving the country in World War II. "As soon as I got my discharge from service my dad (Henry) and I began looking for a possible business partnership," he explains. "We eventually settled on a mink-raising farm to produce fur coats. At that time it was a coming business."

With financial help from his mother, Mildred, a teacher near their Chicago home, Bob and Henry bought 20 acres of land that included 13 acres of apples and two acres of pears, with some vegetables. Today, Bob is in the process of buying out his mother's two-thirds share of the 22-acre (overall) property.

Following his discharge, Bob put the GI Bill to his advantage, earning a degree in horticulture from the University of Illinois in 1951. The knowledge would provide him with a greater understanding of the apple growing business which he and his father still commuted to and from Chicago to run. Both worked odd jobs to make any money they could, because times were rough financially.

The orchards wound up being the business they truly enjoyed, hence the end of the mink business. A little wooden stand mounted on skids served customers during the early days and it wasn't until 1955 that it became a full-time business with a permanent structure.

Over the years, customer demand dictated that Quig's Orchards expand its product variety of jams, a chunk of fudge or sausage. As a gift, I want them to look nice, but the quality is the most important thing. I don't want to spend $10 on packaging and $3 on product; it should be the other way around."

Recently, Quig's officially changed its address from unincorporated Lake County to the Village of Mundelein. Bob reports, "We had to accommodate our growing family and we were told our chances of getting any zoning through the county were slim because they didn't like spot zoning. We approached the village, and they gave us commercial zoning and accepted us."

The family growth is Bob and his wife Marion's greatest source of pride and purpose in life. It is also a sign of the future as all three Quig children are involved in the business, and at least two of them have long-term aspirations to carry on the family tradition—a rare loyalty in today's business climate.

At age 30, the Quig's oldest son, Bob, Jr., works full-time for a Northbrook Cadillac dealership, but he performs the vital task of keeping the Quig orchard machinery maintained and in working condition.

Next in line is Alan, who, at age 29, is the heir apparent to the Quig helm. His main function now is maintaining the orchard and ordering necessary supplies. "I do the spraying and cutting of trees, replanting new ones as older ones die."

A self-proclaimed "jack-of-all-trades" at the shop, Alan has a degree in horticulture from the College of Lake County and has coursework in agriculture from McHenry County College. He also grades apples by type (Quig's has red and golden delicious, mitsu, Paula reds, McIntosh and Jonathans) and size.

Million Dollar Scandal No Reason For Panic

Money and scandal made good copy. So it's no surprise that Ivan Boesky and his $10 million fine for illegal insider trading are making Wall Street and making headlines across America.

But what's the bottom line for the U.S. consumer and small investor? Don't panic and

The Meyers Report

Economic forecaster Gary S. Meyers has been a lecturer and consultant to major financial institutions, government agencies, real estate developers and daily newspapers throughout the nation for the past 15 years. He has been involved in stock markets and securities for possible use as subjects for future columns. Write Gary S. Meyers, 2400 N. Lincoln, Suite 200, Chicago, IL 60614.

don't sell. There's no catastrophe in the offing.

Boesky's crime was insider trading—basically investment decisions on confidential information about a company before it becomes public knowledge.

"Those who have inside information and invest because of it are taking an unfair advantage," said Jim Phillips, with the Houston-based investment advisory firm of Phillips, Patey and Rockwell. "It's like a priest investing on information heard in a confessional. It's unethical as hell, and illegal."

Boesky's scheme involved buying information from insiders who were handling confidential mergers. Boesky then bought the stock and waited for the price to rise once the merger was made public.

Briefly, here are the effects of Ivan Boesky's crime:

—The stock market declined, though only temporarily. The market will recover. The Dow Jones average will again go higher and will hit 1,000 possibly even this year.

—For now, traders are sitting, waiting to judge the effects of the present investigation and prosecution. But lower interest rates are expected, and that should mean stock prices will go up.

—In fact, investors may find that the current dip in stock prices creates an advantageous buying opportunity.

—Some Wall Street hot shots will have to pay substantial fines and retire prematurely. But don't feel bad for them. Unfortunately, some of them are already set for life.

The less secure "junk" bonds (C quality grade and lower, usually used in leveraged buyouts) will be forced to pay higher yields to attract takers. This could reduce the latest wave of corporate mergers, or at least make them more expensive and more difficult to pull off.

Boesky and his buddies are called arbitrageurs (or arbs). That's a fancy way of saying they're high-stakes professional gamblers in the greatest casino in the world, Wall Street.

For the market to operate efficiently, some speculators must be willing to take some additional risk and bet that a company or an industry is going to grow or that a merger, once it is made public, will go through. The speculators' decisions are based on fundamental research available to all. They take risks in excess of the market in order to get profits in excess of the market.

Boesky and his buddies weren't willing to take the market risk. They were rigging the bet. Here's how it could work for an imaginary crooked arbitrageur, Slick Sid: Say that Engulf and Devour Unlimited Inc. goes to an investment banker and tells him that it's looking to buy a hamburger chain called Edible Burger. The investment banker does his analysis and tells Engulf and Devour what Edible Burger stock is worth.

Engulf and Devour's law firm, Devey, Cheatum and Erbe, begins to prepare the necessary legal documents.

Now, one of the employees of either the law firm or the investment banker will sell Slick Sid and his buddies information about the proposed buyout.

Slick and his boys then sit in the market and start buying a lot of Edible Burger's stock—under a hundred assumed names, of course. This pushes the stock up, enticing holders of the stock to sell prematurely, because they don't know about the merger.

When Engulf and Devour announces plans to acquire Edible Burger, the stock price shoots up and Slick and the boys get fat by selling Edible Burger's stock at huge profits—unless they get caught.

By what real damage is done when traders cheat on what they know?

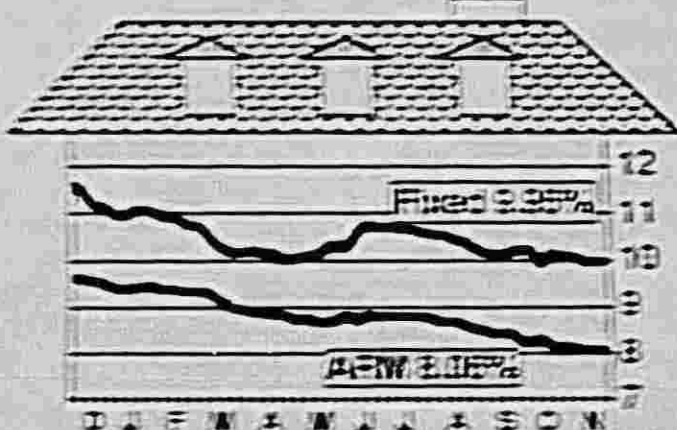

"Insider trading shakes the general confidence of investors who are operating in what they think is an open fair market," said Tom Swien, stockmarket analyst with Janifen, Amhoff, Inc., based in Fort Collins, Colo.

"Investors who hold stock in a company that is going to be bought out will sell prematurely, because the insider trader already has driven up the price a bit. The investor loses the real profits occurring when the merger is announced," said Mark Kilham, a trading expert with E.F. Hutton in Northbrook.

The offending parties broke the law, violated the canons of ethics of their respective professions and tampered with the basic credibility of our free-market economy and democratic social system.

Personally I'd say the whole affair, and its participants, are a shame.

First United Realtors' Sales Volume Increases

In the month of October alone, First United Realtors has reported increases in sales volume compared to the same period last year, of up to 300 percent. A network of residential and commercial offices throughout Chicagoland has made First United the largest locally owned real estate company in the metropolitan area.

"October was an outstanding month for the company. Even when sales might ordinarily decrease as a result of the normal seasonal slow-down, our offices were busier than ever," said Joyce M. Burke, president of First United, Realtors. "We were positioned for the increased activity in the resale market and were able to utilize our network of resources to assure prompt, efficient service, even when the market was at its most hectic."

The Mundein office's sales volume in October increased 120 percent versus sales volume last October, according to sales manager Mary Ann Bystol. Pam Hideriotis was named top sales associate and leading property marketer for the month from the Mundein office, which is located at 550 N. Lake St.

Innovative Office Nurtures Research

by GARY S. MEYERS

Science and civilization often make their greatest technological strides during times of crisis and war.

National emergency and international competition accelerates the practical development of what might otherwise remain abstract studies.

"The demands of national defense justify outlays that would not be possible in a 'cost-effective' or 'bottom-line' organization," said Dr. Robert Jastrow, former director of the Goddard Institute of Space Studies.

"America's present world leadership in high-tech was made possible by government purchases of over half the semiconductors and computers produced in the 1950s and 1960s, when there was no consumer market," said Jastrow.

The Strategic Defense Initiative now is creating another new wave of innovation directed at developing artificial intelligence. "The needs of SDI are pressing the creation of computer hardware and software with a more human outlook. Computer decisions will be made faster. Mathematical decisions will be tempered with common sense," said Jastrow.

Using computers to assist in decision making will revolutionize business management. "The survival needs of corporate entities and other sectors that make up the muscle of our gross national product are as complex as a human being's," said Jastrow.

In addition to revolutions in computer software and hardware, experts foresee a host of civilian spinoffs in materials for medicine and industry.

The thrust for these innovations is focused in the Strategic Defense Initiative Organization's Office of Innovative Science and Technology, or IST, headed by Dr. James A. Ionson.

"All of the commercial spinoff aspects of SDI are being funded out of IST," said Ionson, adding that his office annually spends $100 million on approximately 500 contracts to develop some part of the technology necessary for SDI.

"Don't let the numbers mislead you," said Ionson. "There's no reason that a $100 million expenditure can't result in $10 billion in spinoffs."

Ionson cited as one example the research being done in the field of directed energy.

"There's a $10 million to $15 million program involving universities and university hospitals to develop laser and particle beam technology for surgical and diagnostic purposes," noted Ionson.

"Such a laser could be tuned to the width of a molecule," he said. "As a diagnostic and treatment tool, working on a single cell would be like playing in a sandbox. The ramifications for studying and treating genetic structures, tumors, anything organic, without injuring healthy tissue, are enormous."

Ionson added that the finely-focused beam could be used as a scalpel for localized surgery, where current methods would make such work impossible.

"If you remove the laser," he said, "you can use the particle beam alone for surgery without cutting and without pain, because the electron beam 'scalpel' will not cut the outer layers of skin or nerves."

Charged particles, depending on their energy, penetrate a body to a specific depth, and there release virtually all of their energy. As technology improves, these particles could be used as "depth charges" in fighting cancer without surgery.

Medicine isn't the only field that will benefit from new technologies.

"Before these tools are used in medicine," said Ionson, "industry will already have them."

He noted that molecular engineering, which is being researched for the production of new materials, will allow the U.S. to leapfrog Japanese advances in composite metals.

"Yes, it's possible to spend money directly on projects which now are only spinoffs," said Dr. Gerald Yonas, vice president of the San Diego-based Titan Corp., which produces electronic communications for industry and defense. "But where's the motivation?"

"SDI's purpose is to take many different fields under its wing and to nurture them. SDI will optimize development potential and cut development times greatly," he added.

Rowden Looks Back, Ahead At Grant Wrestling

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

When one mentions Grant wrestling, it does not take long for the name of Don Rowden to be mentioned.

Since he joined the Bulldogs as a wrestler during the first year Grant offered a team, 1956-57, Rowden has been part of the program as a participant, assistant coach or head coach.

"If you are in coaching for anything but the satisfaction, then something is wrong. High school coaches are sure not in it for the money," Rowden said.

Rowden is preparing his 20th team as head coach at the Fox Lake school and he has enjoyed every season. The Bulldogs have been competitive during most of those years and are coming off a stellar season last year.

Rowden said times have indeed changed since he was wrestling at the 127 pound weight class.

"There's no comparison with the kids today with those of 20 or 30 years ago. Techniques that would have won state meets 20 years ago average wrestlers have today. That's not saying the wrestlers before would not win, but those wrestlers today have so much more exposure," Rowden said.

Post-season and pre-season tournaments have given wrestlers the opportunity to compete in up to 100 matches a year. Better techniques and conditioning also help the modern grappler.

"Years ago, there was just one tournament with high school, college and open wrestlers involved," Rowden said.

Although wrestling is generally viewed as an individual sport - after all, it's one-on-one with an opponent of equal or almost equal weight - the Grant mentor thinks it is important to realize the team concept.

"Wrestling is individual in a way, but it's also a team sport in a way. Even the poorest wrestler on the team can play a role. If a wrestler who everyone knows is going to get beat can keep a match close, then that is less points for the other team," Rowden said.

Rowden, while looking over yet another roster of high school wrestlers, remembered a special team - 1978-79.

"We had five kids in the state tournament that year and just missed on a couple others. During the whole year, we only had one kid lose by a pin," Rowden said.

Rowden explained he views a new season by looking at what's coming up.

"You look to see how the freshmen team did, how the junior varsity team did and the number of returning wrestlers you have to fill in spots," Rowden said.

State Gives Regional Sites

Although the basketball season is barely underway, the Illinois High School Assn. has awarded area schools regional sites.

Antioch, Grant, Grayslake and Round Lake's girls will meet at Grayslake. The winner advances to the Round Lake Regional.

Mundelein will also host a girls regional. Cary-Grove, Carmel, Mundelein and Wauconda will compete. The winner there will also go to Round Lake.

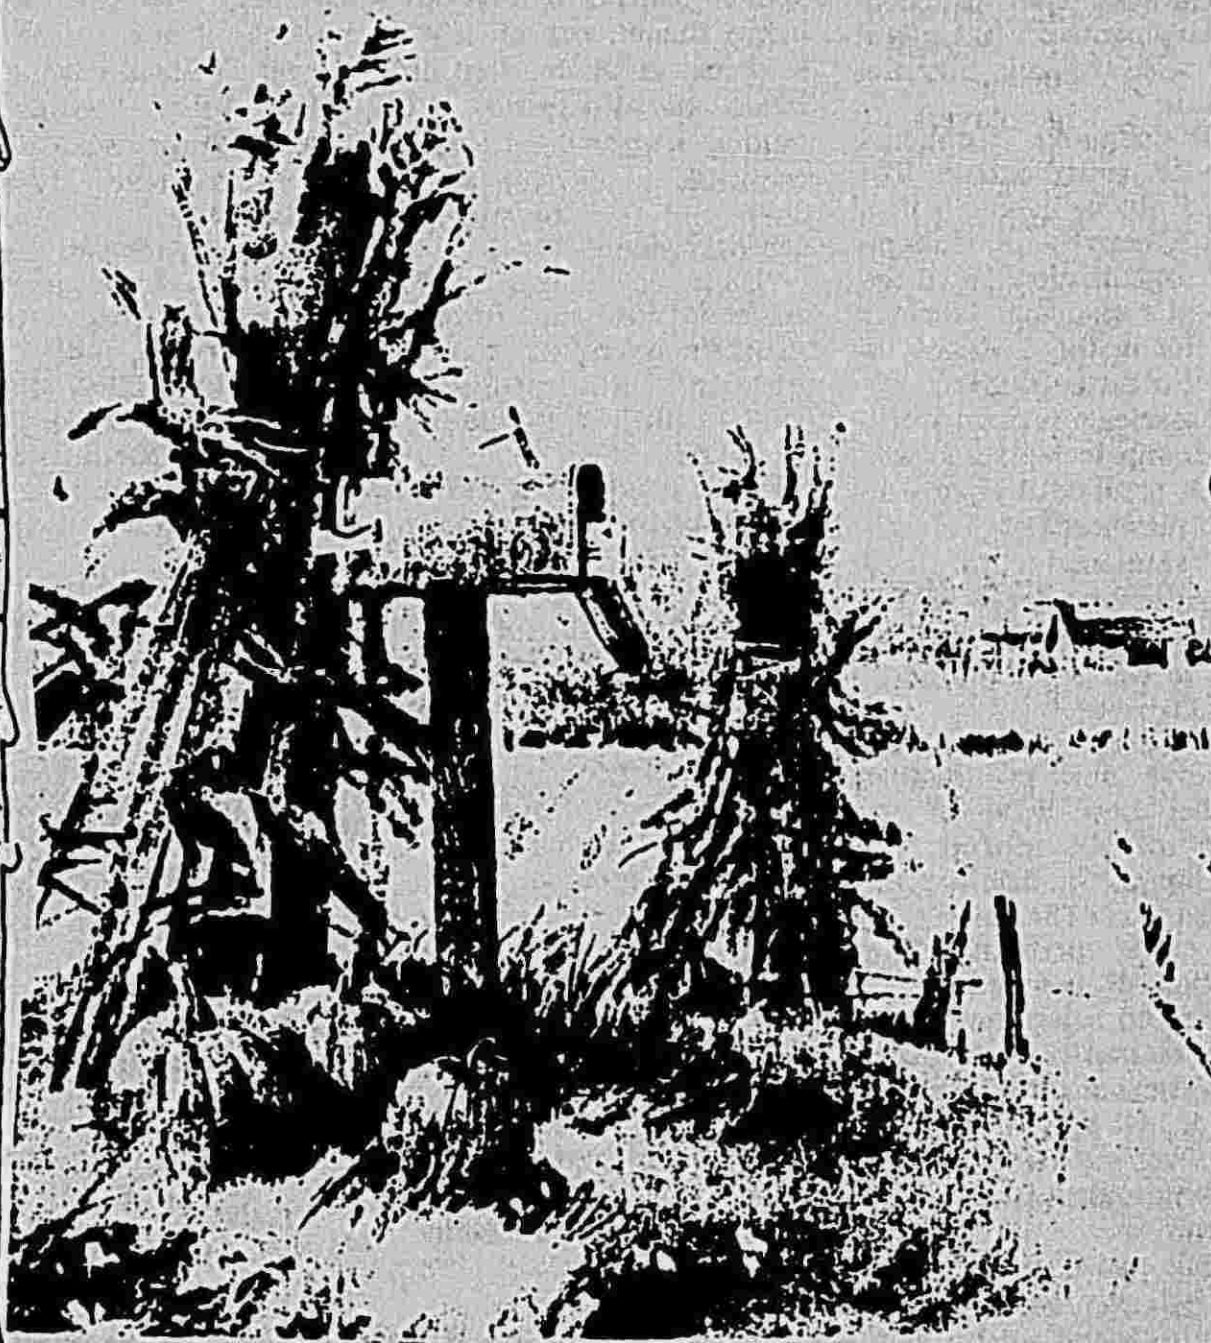

Warren plays at Waukegan West with the two Waukegan schools and Zion-Benton.

North Chicago competes at Libertyville with Stevenson, Lake Forest and the host Wildcats.

Both Mundelein and Libertyville regional winners also advance to Round Lake.

Carmel and Grant will both host a boys regional.

Bulldogs Wrestlers Hope For Quick Rebuilding

Grant's wrestling squad will be in for something new this year.

"We'll be rebuilding this year. For the first time in several years, we don't have a state-ranked wrestler returning," Grant coach Don Rowden said.

But what the Bulldogs do have this year is a group of wrestlers ready to build on prior experiences.

"Most of our kids have varsity experience," Rowden said.

Rowden said he expects Grant to be strong in the middle weights starting at 119 pounds on up.

The Bulldogs' contingent is a mixed bag, with several seniors and juniors along with some freshmen and sophomores on the roster.

At 98 pounds, junior Eric Sutton is the leading candidate.

While the 105 pound weight class was up for grabs, Ray Martinez, a starter last year, is back at 112.

Don Rowden

A trio of wrestlers start Grant's middle-weight strength. Juniors Dave Doody, Jerry Mazur and senior Pete Walls are vying for experience at 119.

Dave Rankin is back at 126 and joined by Todd Soucy.

At 132, Garth Uhwat, a senior and Glen Glashagel, a junior, are on the depth chart.

A brother act is featured at 138 pounds. Seniors Joe and Rick Sunderland are joined by junior John Mazur.

John Bakis at 155, Kurt Rous, Wayne Akers and Bob Foster at 167, Brad Frystak at 185 and heavyweight Len Kratz complete the roster.

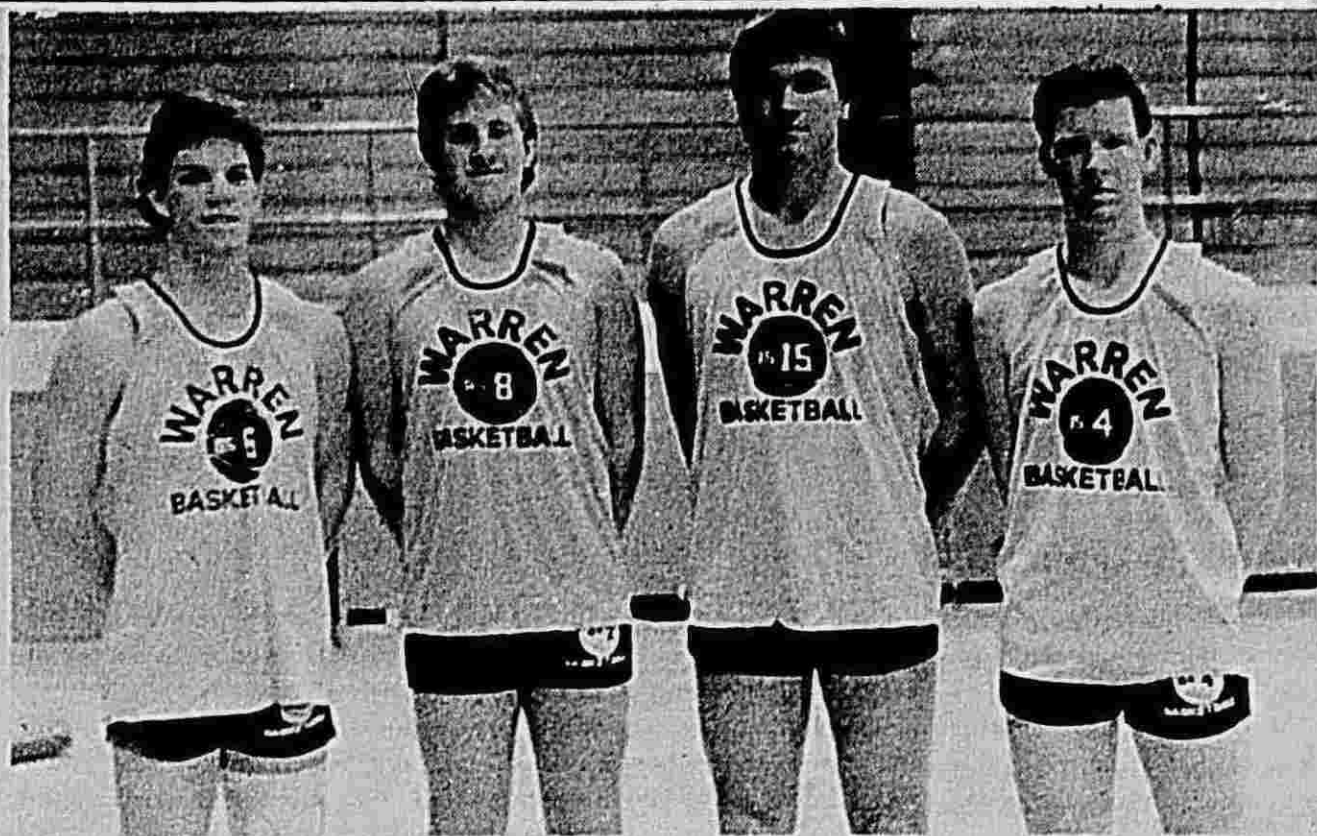

"We're hoping to have a good year," Rowden said.

Grant owned the Northwest Suburban Conference meet last year, but Rowden feels Johnsbury is ready to give a challenge this time around.

"Johnsbury's freshmen gave our freshmen their toughest test and their program has been coming along. They've had good lower level kids now for the past three to four years," Rowden said.

Round Lake also may be in the running.

But if history is any indication Rowden, now in his 20th year as head coach at Grant, will have his troops ready come tournament time.

Returning Devils

Warren's basketball team returns four lettermen from last year's team. Returning Blue Devils are Jason Lnezin, Brad Beitzel, Brian Jarrell and Dave Lambert. The Blue Devils, along with Carmel and Mundelein, compete in the Mundelein Thanksgiving tournament this weekend. Games Nov. 28 pit Carmel against Warren and Fremd against Mundelein. On Nov. 29, Warren faces Fremd and Carmel battles Mundelein.

List All NWSC Volleyball

Grant and Johnsbury's volleyball teams each placed two players on the Northwest Suburban Conference team.

Grant representatives are senior Kerry Wilson and junior Tammy Loring.

Wilson is one of six unanimous choices. Loring is the only other Bulldog on the team.

Johnsbury placed senior Cindy Swartzloff as an unanimous pick and Stephanie Mae is the only soph on the team.

Wauconda's Debbie Westergard, a junior, is also on the squad.

Round Lake's representative is Denise Kraly, a junior.

Lisa Richardson is a unanimous choice from Grayslake.

Other all-NWSC team members are: Marengo's Celeste Volkene and Diane Fitzgerald, Jo Tonyan and Renee Draffkorn from conference champ Marian Central.

Warren Girls Hoops Hope Quickness Equals Victories

Quickness will be the name of the game for Warren Twp. High School's girls basketball team this year.

"We'll have some good quickness," coach Bruce Campbell said as the Devils prepared for the start of the 1986-87 season.

Without much height on this year's starting five, Campbell knows he will have to count on that quickness.

Returning players from last year's 16-8 team include 5-9 players are: Crystal Cobb, a sophomore forward; Terri Ingalls, a junior forward; senior center-forward Lisa Gowe and senior guard Dawn Bendrey.

Tiffany Holmes, a senior, is also listed as a guard with Jenni Marker.

Campbell said the team has good shooters, led by Cobb, who started as a freshman last year.

Ingalls was the team's third best shooter for 1985-86.

"With our lack of size, we will have to mix it up defensively. We'll play some man-to-man and some zone," Campbell said.

Offensively, Campbell said he hopes to use the aforementioned quickness to chalk up some fast-breaks.

"We have to take advantage of our assets and work on that," Campbell said.

One weakness that hurt the Blue Devils last year and the team is trying to avoid this time around is turnovers. "We have to make sure we don't have too many turnovers," the coach said.

Campbell said he sees a well-balanced North Suburban Conference this time around.

"I see a well-balanced league. There are a lot of underclass players who played last year because the league was not senior dominated," he said.

Libertyville is the team to beat, according to Campbell, because the Wildcats have several players returning. Antioch and Fenton cannot be counted out, however.

CLC Men Whip Joliet, Women Fall In Opener

by JOHN PHELPS

The College of Lake County mens basketball team improved its record to 3-1 with an 84-68 drubbing of Joliet last week.

In what was an easy victory, the Lancers jumped out to a 37-26 halftime lead and proceeded to outscore the Wolves 47-42 in the second half. Every Lancer got to play in the game, which featured a balanced scoring attack. David Tucker led the way with 19 points while Dave Sitz and Don Gunther both had 14. Tucker had 14 rebounds.

"We had a good team effort tonight. Our defense and fast-break performed well," CLC coach Bruce Smith said afterwards.

CLC participates in the Harper Thanksgiving tournament Nov. 28 and Nov. 29, to be held at Harper College in Palatine.

The CLC women's basketball squad opened its 1986-87 season, playing in the preliminary game against the Joliet Lady Wolves. The Lancers came up on the short end of a 68-42 thumping, but as returning starter JoAnne Hangebrauck said, "we played alright for our first game. Right now, we are missing two of our regular players, but when they return, I think we'll become more consistent and overall, a better ballclub."

CLC Sports Notebook

Leading the Lancers in scoring was Karen Hermann with 22 points. Lake County faced Highland Monday, and as coach Chuck Schramm said, "Highland is one of the best teams in the state. It will be a good test to see if we can keep pace with them."

CLC's only returning players are Kelly Halkyard, who missed the opener with an ankle injury sustained in practice and Hangebrauck. Key first-year players are Wendy Christina, Ria Dieden and Hermann.

Schramm expects the team to start off slowly, but eventually finish toward the top of the Skyway Conference at the conclusion of the season.

Upcoming contests for the Lady Lancers include an away game at Thornton Nov. 25 and a home game against Rock Valley Dec. 6.

SOMETHING WILD (R-Orion) Starring Jeff Daniels, Melanie Griffith, Ray Liotta. ★ ★ ★

By J.T. YURKO

About three-quarters of the way through "Something Wild," Melanie Griffith turns to Jeff Daniels and says, "What are you gonna do now that you've seen how the other half lives... the other half of you?"

One half of Jeff Daniels is a mild-mannered tax accountant. But in a downtown coffee shop, he impulsively decides to skip out without paying the check. It's not to save a few bucks, since he has recently been promoted to vice president of a tax-consulting firm. It's just for a cheap thrill.

Approaching him outside the coffee shop is a woman with a Louise Brooks hairdo and Billie Holiday voice who spots a kindred spirit. "You're a closet rebel," she says. She offers him a ride back to work, and a few hours later he finds himself handcuffed to a bed in a cheap motel in New Jersey.

"Something Wild" begins wild and ends wild, and if the middle sags just a bit, be grateful for the chance to catch your breath.

Everything here has another side to it. Melanie Griffith's black bobbed wig conceals short blond hair. After the sexual romp in Jersey she takes Daniels home to mom in Pennsylvania and exchanges her slit skirts and theatrical makeup for more demure attire. She even takes Daniels to her high school reunion.

It's here that the underside of her life comes back to haunt her. She meets an old classmate (played by Ray Liotta) who turns out to be a sadistic ex-con. When he joins the tale, the playful if somewhat kinky tone of the film turns decidedly grim. But even that doesn't prepare us for the violent climax, as the dark side meets suburbia.

Jonathan Demme is a master of tone, yanking us around at will from giggly farce to impending terror, as the film examines the duality in most people and takes them on a journey from which they cannot return unchanged.

E. Max Frye's screenplay is more character portrait than plot, which puts a lot of weight on the actors. But the offbeat roles are all solidly played in this most offbeat film.

Deadline For Disaster Loan Application Dec. 8

John L. Smith, U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) Dist. director, advised that Monday, Dec. 8, 1986, is the deadline for filing Disaster Loan Applications for several Illinois counties, including Lake and McHenry.

According to Smith, "This declaration made SBA Disaster Loan Assistance available to residents and businesses who suffered losses from flooding beginning on Sept. 21, 1986, and continuing."

A resident may borrow up to $100,000 to repair his/her primary home plus $20,000 for lost or damaged personal property. Renters are also eligible for up to $20,000 for personal property losses.

Businesses may borrow up to $500,000 for all eligible losses.

Due to the passage of the Consolidated Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (PL 99-272), Agricultural Enterprises, as defined in Section 18(b)(1) of the Small Business Act, are not eligible for either Physical or Economic Injury Disaster Loan Assistance from the SBA.

However, a farmer may still elect to apply to the SBA if the loan request is strictly to cover physical damage to his/her home and/or personal effects. Disaster loan funds can only be used to restore property affected by the disaster and the loan is limited to the amount not covered by insurance.

Interest rates will be either four percent or eight percent depending upon the applicant's own resources.

Victims are also reminded that they must file an application with SBA before the Dec. 8 deadline to maintain possible eligibility with the Individual and Family Grant Program.

SBA representatives will remain available for assistance through the filing deadline of Dec. 8, at the following location and on the specified days: O'Hare L.A. Office Plaza, 2350 E. Devon Ave., Rm. 114, Des Plaines, IL 60018; phone (312) 290-9730 from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays.

Assistance and forms are also available by writing or calling the SBA Disaster Assistance Div., Area 2, 120 Ralph McGill Blvd., 14th Floor, Atlanta, GA 30309.

The toll-free telephone number is (1-800) 334-0309. Calls will be taken between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. (EST) on weekdays. Applications must be postmarked no later than Dec. 8.

Keep Dinner Germ-Free

Dr. Bernard J. Turnock, director of the Illinois Dept. of Public Health, issued guidelines for preparing the Thanksgiving turkey and other holiday foods to avoid illness, such as salmonella.

"Because many warm-blooded creatures, including turkeys and other poultry, often harbor salmonella organisms in their intestinal tracts, proper thawing and cooking are important to avoid food-borne illness," Dr. Turnock said.

He recommended the following guidelines:

Thaw a frozen turkey in the refrigerator or in a place where the temperature is no higher than 45 degrees. A 20-pound turkey will take two or three days to thaw completely. Do not thaw the turkey at room temperature.

Before stuffing the turkey, be certain it is completely thawed, that there is no ice in the inner cavity. If the inner cavity is still frozen, or partially frozen, when putting the turkey into the oven, the outside of the bird will be done before the inside is hot enough to destroy disease-bearing organisms.

Insert a meat thermometer into the center of the thickest part of the thigh, breast or stuffing. Bake the turkey until the temperature reaches at least 165 degrees.

For complete safety, stuffing should be baked separately, in a shallow pan, rather than inside the bird.

If serving seafood (shrimp, lobster, oysters, clams, mussels), either as appetizers or part of the main meal, be certain it is well done. Recent reports from southern states indicate that eating raw or uncooked seafood from the Gulf of Mexico may be a factor in some cases of cholera.

After the meal, leftovers such as meat, dressing, gravy, sauces and soups should be refrigerated immediately. Letting these foods sit several hours at room temperature will allow time for the growth of disease-causing bacteria.

When eating leftovers, serve them either very cold (directly from the refrigerator) or very hot.

Public Service Aids In Flood Disaster

Lake County Director of Court Services, George Gallagher, announced that the department's Public Service Program coordinated a three-and-one-half week effort in helping with the recent flood disaster utilizing the labor of 46 defendants who had been sentenced to perform public service by the Lake County Courts for traffic and non-violent offenses.

The defendants performed over 1,200 hours of labor at no cost in such diverse tasks as assisting with sandbagging in Libertyville, clean-up of the YMCA in Mundelein, cleaning the Lake County Health Dept.

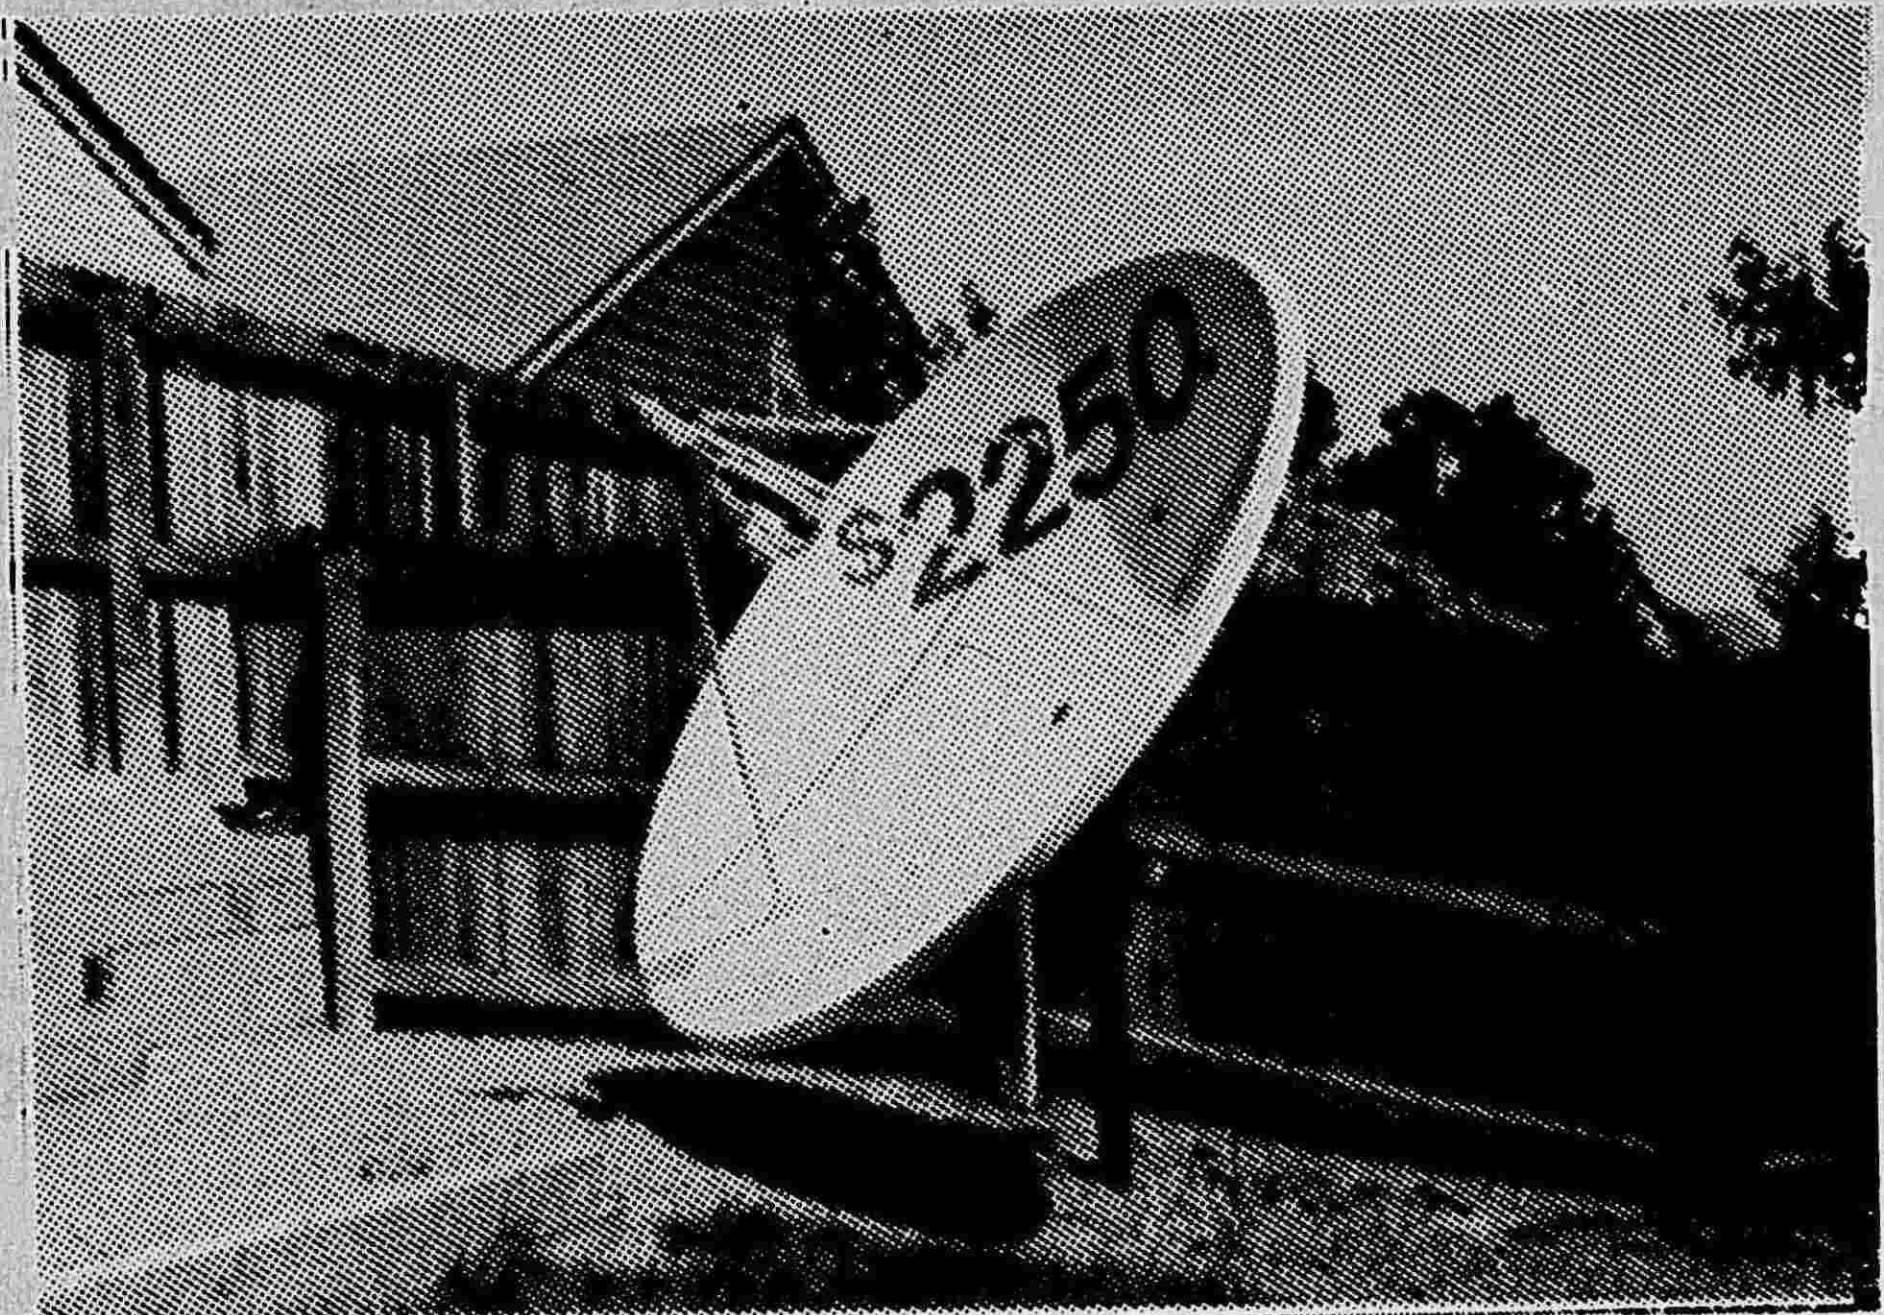

and Special Education offices in Gurnee and assisting in the clean-up of the Gurnee Village Hall and Police Dept.

Defendants also helped move furniture from the Gurnee Grade School to the old Weibolts store in Lakehurst. Gallagher stated that the flood relief was a commendable effort and a huge success, and praised the public service officers who coordinated the project and supervised work sites.

Anyone interested in participating in the program should call the public service office at (312) 360-7379.

BUYING A HOME SATELLITE DISH IS COSTLIER THAN YOU THINK

Before you spend your hard earned money on a satellite receive dish you should learn the facts.

This year popular premium services like HBO and Cinemax will begin scrambling their signals with highly sophisticated electronic encryption devices.

And this new technique won't be limited to just premium services. Many basic cable channels like ESPN, MTV and CNN have announced their intentions to scramble signals.

What does this mean for satellite dish owners?

In addition to paying several thousand dollars for the purchase and installation of a receive dish, it will be necessary to spend hundreds of dollars on descrambling equipment plus pay monthly service fees for each channel received.

Make your decision based on the facts.

This message is brought to you as a public service by U.S. Cable.

Christmas Wildlife

Why not make wildlife a part of your holiday season? National Wildlife magazine describes how to decorate a tree in your yard especially for wildlife. Adorning a tree with pinecones dipped in suet or peanut butter makes a sumptuous Christmas feast for both birds and animals. Popcorn, raisins, and cranberries strung on the branches are also treats for wildlife and give the tree a festive look. The best decorations, however, are those that come to feast-birds and nature's other living ornaments.

Everything You Need To Know About Christmas Trees

Whether you buy your Christmas tree from a local lot or cut your own, you are continuing a tradition with roots in antiquity. The decorated Christmas tree has been traced back to about the year 1500 in the province of Alsace along the Upper Rhine River. Alsace was then part of Germany.

Christmas trees have been decorated in some fashion since the custom began. Apples and wafers, paper or cloth roses, and sugar candy comprised early decorations. Also added were candles, ribbons, a star on the top, toys, dolls, glittering beads, and other ornaments.

The custom of the Christmas tree was introduced in the United States during the War for Independence by Hessian troops. An early account tells of a Christmas tree set up by American soldiers at Fort Dearborn, Illinois, the site of Chicago, in 1804. Most other early accounts in the United States were among the German settlers in eastern Pennsylvania.

By 1850, the Christmas tree had become fashionable in the eastern states. Until this time, it had been considered a quaint foreign custom.

Franklin Pierce was the first President to introduce the Christmas tree to the White House in 1856, for a group of Washington Sunday school children. The first National Christmas tree was lighted in the year 1923.

We are lucky here in northeastern Illinois to have many tree farms where we can still select and cut our own trees.

Following is a list of these Christmas Tree Farms. We have included the phone number for each. You may want to call before going to the tree farm to find out how conditions are, and the kinds of trees still available.

The farms are open for business during daylight hours. Please remember, if you plan to cut your own tree...bring your own saw, a rope to tie the tree to your car, and something to wrap the tree, so it does not dry out during the ride home.

Also, bring the children, and maybe even a picnic lunch and plan to make a day of it. You will enjoy yourselves and get lots of fresh air and exercise at the same time.

Be sure to wear boots, hat, gloves, and warm clothing...or you may get a little too wet and cold to enjoy the outing.

And, before you head for the tree farm, measure the space in your home the tree will occupy. Then take your ruler with you. Trees that look tiny outdoors acquire huge dimensions when moved indoors.

ANTIOCH - Ben-Ley Farm - 14300 128th

Street or State Line (also County Road WG), Antioch, IL 60002, (312)395-6300. Take I-94 to Route 173 exit (Rosecrans Road), turn west 1/2 mile to Hunt Club Road, turn north 2 1/2 miles to 128th Street or State Line Road. Turn west to 3rd mail box and signs. Trees available: Scotch, Red and White Pine and Balsam Fir. Open 9 a.m. to dusk Saturdays and Sundays, and open the Friday after Thanksgiving.

AURORA - Marmion Abbey - Butterfield Road, Aurora, IL 60504, (312)897-3011 for directions - recorded message. Trees available: Red, White, Scotch, Austrian Pines, and a few Spruce - evergreen boughs available. Open 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., starting the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

WOODSTOCK - Oney's Christmas Tree Farm - Ron Peterson - 16608 Route 14, Woodstock, IL 60098, (815)338-4108. Trees available: Red, White and Scotch Pine. Open 9 a.m. until dark. Closed Tuesday and Thursday, starting the day after Thanksgiving. CALL BEFORE COMING OUT. Also have pre-cut trees available, wagon rides and Arts and Crafts.

When you bring your tree home, you can take measures to keep it fresh and attractive. If you desire not to set it up immediately, it will keep better if one and a half inches are cut off the base and then placed in a bucket of water in a cool, shaded area, sheltered from the wind. Just before putting the tree in its stand, cut another inch off the trunk at the base. This will expose fresh wood and allow the tree to take up water more readily. Always make flat cuts - not tapered cuts.

A tree stand with water will prevent needle drop and will increase the tree's fire resistance. Using a bucket of wet sand for a tree stand will also help to keep a tree fresh. A pint to a quart of water should be added to the stand each day. Keep the water level above the bottom of the trunk.

For those who feel they must add something to the water in the Christmas tree stand, the following is suggested:

Christmas Tree Formula: Add and mix the following ingredients to one gallon of HOT water: 1 tablespoon of chlorine bleach, 1 tablespoon of micronized or chelated iron (brand name: Green, Garde, Greenol, or Sequestrene) - or - after making a fresh cut on the butt of the tree and securing it in the tree holder, ladle the solution carefully into tree holder. Use some caution as the solution may stain your carpeting. If you have any of the solution left, add it daily at room temperature. After solution has been used, add warm tap water daily.

Current research shows that plain water is as good, if not better, than most home-made or commercially prepared products in preventing a fresh tree from drying out.

For safety...the tree should not be decorated with cotton, paper, or other materials that are flammable. Avoid wax candles and other types of open flame. Check lights and wiring for worn spots and cracks, and take care not to overload electrical circuits.

CLC Sets Class On Constitution

"We the people, in order to form a more perfect union..." With this line begins the most important document in American history--the United States Constitution. Signed on Sept. 17, 1787, the Constitution will celebrate its 200th anniversary in 1987.

In honor of the Constitution, the College of Lake County (CLC) is offering a new course titled "The Constitution" (LAS 221-001) which will examine the document as it was written in 1787.

The course will also review the constitutional amendments and will look at ways in which the Constitution is interpreted today.

Designated as a sophomore seminar, the course has limited enrollment and is open to students with sophomore standing or higher. The seminar format will allow for extensive class discussion.

Registration for spring semester begins Dec. 1. Classes begin Jan. 20. For more information on this and other courses, call (312) 223-8800.

CLC's '86 Tax Levy Shows 9.71 Percent Hike

The College of Lake County Board of Trustees adopted the 1986 tax levy at its Nov. 18 board meeting at the Grayslake campus. The amount of the levy, including election costs and not service is $8,130,000, a 9.71 percent increase over the 1985 tax levy.

The levy includes appropriations of $5,330,000 for educational purposes and $460,000 for operations, building and maintenance.

The board also adopted a resolution concerning the preservation of the Illinois Nursing Act. The Illinois Nursing Act is among those regulated acts scheduled for legislative review during 1987.

This year, the Illinois

Nurses Assn. is proposing legislation to restrict registered nurse licensure to nurses with bachelor of science degrees in nursing only.

This legislation would severely curtail career opportunities for associate degree nurses (DN).

Currently, ALN programs nationally graduate 55 percent of all individuals taking the registered nurse licensure examination.

Through the Coalition for the Preservation of the Current Nurse Practice Act, community college presidents, trustees and faculty members have joined concerned citizens representing nurses, health care providers and nursing organizations in opposing the changes proposed by the Illinois Nurses Assn.

The resolution adopted by the board indicated that a change in the educational requirements for professional registered nurses would, among other things, deprive minority and economically disadvantaged students of access to careers in professional nursing.

This group traditionally chooses the lower cost two-year ADN programs at community colleges.

The resolution also states that increased educational requirements would increase health care costs and staffing problems for hospitals as well as decrease the number of professional registered nurses qualified to meet the health care needs of Illinois residents.

In other action, the board:

—Heard a report from Doug Sherman, faculty member and coordinator of CLC's new honors program to begin next fall. Sherman reported that he expects 45-60 applicants for the honors program. These applicants, recruited by Sherman, represent Lake County students who rank in the top 10 percent of their high school class.

—approved pursuit of a $30,000 grant from the Illinois Arts Council. The grant, if funded, would enable CLC to conduct a feasibility study regarding the construction of a Community Center for Performing and Fine Arts. The grant required that CLC must match the funds provided.

The next meeting of the CLC Board of Trustees will be held on Dec. 16 on the Grayslake campus.

Making His Point

Grayslake Trustee Charles Lucas was among over 200 people who turned out for a meeting at Libertyville's Twp. Hall on Nov. 19 to protest the Heartland settlement. Lucas joined Grayslake Mayor Edwin Schroeder in stating publicly that Grayslake was not allowed to be a part of the negotiations and that threats by Lake County officials were the reason behind the village's signing of the agreement. Grayslake voted 5-1 to accept the settlement. Lucas was the lone dissenter on the board.—Photo by Charles Johnston

Steinke Says Anderson To Be New Chairman

JOHN STEINKE
Political Columnist

The Lake County Board is every local politician's team house. Its membership (24) is small enough to permit the ambitious to strut and get some newspaper attention for their efforts. Its four-year term is long enough to allow the mavericks to flout their independence. The board encourages the arrogant and the demagogues to bulldoze their colleagues. The lazy are motivated to just plain loze. Vanity is the order of the day. When someone shouts, "Mr. Chairman," 24 pairs of eyes light up with ambition.

If you want to witness World War III on Dec. 1, please visit the Waukegan Courthouse. On that date, the county board will elect its chairman for the next two years. The board chairman designates the committee assignments including the chairman and vice-chairmen. He also serves as liquor commissioner for the county's unincorporated areas. The chairperson also appoints many county officials subject to the board's confirmation.

When the county board sends up the white smoke, one of these five members will be coronated chairman: Dist. 3 Rep. Jim LaBelle of Zion, Dist. 3 Rep. Eleanor Rostrom of Waukegan, Dist. 4 Rep. Norm Geary of Grayslake, Dist. 5 Rep. Jim Dolan of Libertyville, or Dist. 6 Rep. C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington. All the aspirants are Republican because the GOP possesses a 20-4 advantage on the county board. Yet John Balen's four Democrats may hold the balance-of-power in this election again. Four years ago, the Democratic minority re-elected the late chairman Glenn Miller over Robert Depke on the 80th ballot. In 1984, a combination of Geary Republicans and Balen Democrats helped Jim LaBelle to defeat incumbent Glenn Miller on the 27th ballot.

Here is analysis of the five potential chairpersons in the Dec. 1 election:

1. Chairman Jim LaBelle: Two years ago, LaBelle defeated the late Glenn Miller for the chairmanship, 13-11, on the 27th ballot. The story of LaBelle is the story of the triumph of the deadly perseverance of mediocrity-in-motion. LaBelle failed to implement this time-honored political axiom: "Take care of your own." Or, "Dance with the one who brung you." He tried to accommodate his friends while appeasing his enemies. In the process, he alienated his supporters. At the same time, LaBelle's opponents perceived him as an unprincipled and untrustworthy leader. As an intellectual, he has been rated as "ten pounds lighter than a Panama hat." As a parliamentary tactician, he is inept. As a cloakroom wirepuller, LaBelle will never endanger the laurels of Bob Depke or Norm Geary. On the issues, he vacillates between toughness and timidity, blowing now hot and then cold.

2. Norm Geary: He has a fabulous knowledge of all the complex details of county government. He has lived with it, run its machinery, fought its battles and dreamed its dream for twenty-one years. Few county board members have ever brought to their task a wider experience, more profound grasp, and loftier concept of the chairman's duties. Geary has force and brilliance. His enemies claim that he is driven by an insatiable desire for power and self-importance. They assert that he has the moral instincts of a hawk and the modest manners of a rooster. Geary is the most bitterly controversial representative on the county board. Many Republicans cannot pronounce his name without musing up their hair and gnashing their teeth.

3. Jim Dolan: The Libertyville representative has been a close political associate of Warren Twp. Rep. Bob Depke, who was defeated for re-election in the March primary. Allegedly, Depke is orchestrating Dolan's election to the chairmanship. Dolan presents himself as a consensus candidate. He looks younger than his age, he keeps clear of ideological conflicts and power grabs, sticks to his knitting, and keeps his mouth shut. Dolan is graceful, indefinably charming, and suave without being slick. Yet he is, by nature, an ambitious man. With the defeat of Depke and the death of Miller, Dolan is the regular GOP candidate for the county board chairmanship. His opponents maintain that he is an ineffective leader. They contend that he will be Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox's pawn. His adversaries describe Dolan as "the third string quarterback" of the GOP regulars.

4. C. Richard Anderson: This amazing 75-year-old gentleman possesses one of the wisest and most acute political instincts in the county. He would be a perfect compromise choice. Anderson is the second choice among the Geary Republicans and Balen Democrats. In addition, he would have the solid support of his Dist. 6 colleagues, including Bruce Hansen, John Reindl and Jerry Beyer. Anderson could bridge the gap between the regular Republicans and the party mavericks. He is a masterful politician.

5. Eleanor Rostrom: Currently, the Waukegan Rep. is aligned with Chairman Jim LaBelle. Supposedly, she will support his re-election unless LaBelle strikes a political bargain with Forest Preserve President Donald Strenger of Lake Forest. Rostrom perceives Strenger as an "incompetent" public official. Many county board members praise her abilities. Several people criticized her county board performance. One member accuses her of being "two-faced." If there is a protracted deadlock, she has a chance of being elected chairperson. Rostrom would become the first female chairperson in the history of Lake County politics.

Here are the major factors that will influence the selection of county board chairman:

1. Dolan's supporters include Deloris Axelrod of Highland Park, Richard "Rick" Price of Lake Forest, Donald Strenger of Lake Forest, Matt Micholic of Lake Bluff, Bob Neal of Wadsworth, Jim Fields of Antioch, Fred Popp of Lake Villa, Charlotte "Char" Kiesgan of Fox Lake and Jerry Beyer of Wauconda. But Dolan may experience three defections. Reportedly, Kiesgan has committed herself to LaBelle on the first ballot. If C. Richard Anderson becomes a candidate, Jerry Beyer will probably support his county board district's "favorite son." Allegedly, Matt Miholic despises Bob Neal, who is also Lake County GOP chairman. It is rumored that Neal, Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian and North Chicago Mayor Bobby Thompson negotiated an agreement to support the election of Democrat Jerome Hodge and Republican Frances Vetrone to the county board from the Waukegan-North Chicago area. As a result, Neal abandoned Miholic's candidacy. Miholic may vote for LaBelle or field his own campaign for the chairmanship.

2. Geary's allies include Helen Amendola of Highland Park, Carol Calabrese and Mike Graham, both of Libertyville. In addition, Norm Geary may win support from C. Richard Anderson, Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich and John Reindl of Mundelein. Finally, Geary "has been good" to the Lake County Democrats. John Balen of Waukegan, Sam Payne of Zion, Audry Nixon of North Chicago, and Tony Serdar of Waukegan may cast their ballots for Geary. However, his support is soft. Helen Amendola is an astute and flexible politician. She wants to cast the decisive vote to produce the winner. Mike Graham has asserted that he will endorse the candidate, who supports a bond issue for open space. If Anderson announces for the chairmanship, Geary will also lose the support of Hansen and Reindl. Nor can Geary depend upon Democratic unity to support his election. Audrey Nixon may defect to either LaBelle or Dolan. Both candidates are cultivating her.

Among LaBelle's supporters, Andrea Moore of Libertyville may be the critical vote. She is a brilliant woman with unfulfilled potential. She needs a victory on the board after serving two undistinguished years in county government. The glamour lady would love to be elected president of the Lake County Forest Preserve. That means she would have to cut a deal with either Geary or Anderson. Who will be elected Lake County Board Chairman? My guess is C. Richard Anderson. Yet you should recall three axioms. First, the only certain thing about politics is its uncertainty. Second, politics is the science of the possible. Third, I'm usually wrong about most things.

Two-Thirds Split Election Ballots

by JOHN STEINKE
(Political Columnist)

During the past five off-

	1970	1974	1978	1982	1986
St. Rep. Ballots	29,648	15,218	16,033	25,730	24,208
St. Dem. Ballots	20,133	13,621	5,908	15,020	1,470
Split Ballots	49,946	58,018	87,833	70,437	71,276

year or nonpresidential elections, Lake County Republicans have recorded a 2-1 advantage over the Democrats in straight-party voting. However, two-thirds of the area's electorate have cast split-tickets. In 1986, nearly 75 percent of the county's voters registered split ballots. This pattern occurred because many Republicans voted for two Democrats: U.S. Senator

Alan J. Dixon and County Clerk Linda Hess. There was a sharp decline in the straight Democratic ballots because of the Lyndon H. LaRouche nominees and Adlai E. Stevenson's third-party candidacy.

Here are Lake County's voting patterns for the last five midterm elections:

with a package and the Governor's staff and the legislature are reviewing it," Churchill said.

Churchill said the chances for a reform package bill being passed next week now "look good". Lawmakers return to Springfield Dec. 9-11 to complete the fall veto session.

The Old Mill Creek site would be developed by Richard Duchossois, owner of Arlington Park. While relocating to Lake County, Duchossois will be rebuilding the Arlington Heights area as a convention and motel site.

The combined Arlington Heights-Lake County project could bring more than $1.3 billion to the local economies.

It is for that reason county legislators decided to go ahead with off-track betting.

Originally, the county lawmakers sought a "clean bill" highlighted by a reduction in the state's parimutuel tax and breakages.

"Our top preference would have been a reduction in the state's pari-mutuel tax and breakage without tying anything like dog racing or off-track betting onto it. But the project for building the track would bring is such a major significance to the county that you have to take the good with the bad," Churchill said.

The off-track betting proposal would allow for three off-track betting sites per track.

Head Start Offers A Chance

NA SWIECH

Today's world of high-education, there's a lot that low-income families with young children can't afford. In fact, it's of no use at all to those who can't afford it. The place is Head Start, a preschool for four- and five-year-old children of low-income families.

The funding for Head Start is provided 80 percent by the federal government, and 20 percent by the community through donations and volunteer services.

There are Head Starts throughout the country. Six are operating in Lake County alone, supporting some 366 children in education. Among these, Head Start happily accepts 10 to 15 percent handicapped children each year. "Head Start is much more than a babysitting service," says Richard Swiech, center representative for the Ingleside school. Since Head Start was established in 1965, the program has stuck with providing four and five-year-olds with the first phase of educational background. That includes a wide range of educational, emotional and social development.

Head Start is designed to help children develop self-confidence and self-expression and provide parents an opportunity to participate in this stage of their child's development," said Shirley Sheets, site manager for the Ingleside Center. "When a child leaves Head Start, he is ready for kindergarten."

Sheets began at the center as an assistant teacher, after working with retarded children elsewhere. She then became a lead teacher at Head Start, and finally, site manager.

"You have to be dedicated and love children to work here," she said. She stresses that fact often, because the program does not have the funding to pay the teachers much.

The children attend Head Start from September until May, five days a week, with transportation provided. Breakfast and lunches meeting two-thirds of the child's daily nutritional requirements are given each day, and cooked by another staff member.

The teachers must have the required college credits, or a CDA (child development associate degree), in order to be employed as instructors at Head Start. The administration then has each teacher fill out an in-depth background form and sends it to Springfield where it is thoroughly checked.

The program is equally strict about licensing each school. The DCFS (department of children and family services) often comes to the school checking everything from cleanliness to the amount of toys.

Parents' involvement is quite important at the centers. They must have a physical and a TB skin test before volunteering in the classrooms.

Each center has a parent committee and from this group, representatives make up the policy council with members of the community. The policy council works closely with the administration of the school. Parents are also given first-choice of employment as teachers and aides at the school.

Students are tested at the beginning of each year to find out what they know. The test consists of gross and fine motor skills, visual perception and social and emotional needs. Then, at the end of the year, they are tested again to see how much they have learned.

"And it's usually a lot," says Swiech.

When asked what she gets out of working at the Head Start center, Sheets said simply, "I love to watch the children grow."

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: November 26, 1936

The Antioch News reported that, "Former Kaiser Wilhelm was visited recently by the oldest cyclist in the world, monogenarian Heinrich Werner of Bonn, Germany, who as a German railway official accompanied the kaiser's train in imperial days, and always had been on friendly terms with the monarch." If you're 90 years old or better, and are going to cycle around Germany to visit a former monarch, you better be on pretty friendly terms.

Well, I guess a woman's got to do what a woman's got to do. The News reported that, "To become the first woman in this state (in Sao Paulo, Brazil), Elisa Olympia Marcondes, 48 years old, had to admit her age." Actually, the town council knew how touchy Elisa was about her age, so for fun they made her spill the beans. What they really needed to know was what soap opera she watches at 2 p.m.

Did you ever notice a hunger for bananas in the presence of an English lady? This may be the reason why, as reported by the Antioch News: "English women seeking rejuvenation from monkey glands outnumber by far the women doing so in any other country, according to Dr. Serge Voronoff, 'monkey gland' expert, who is now visiting in London. 'It is possible,' said Voronoff, 'for a woman, who spends a painless half hour in having the glands of a monkey transferred to her, to regain 15 years of her life.' Painless for who, Dr. Voronoff, the woman or the monkey?"

TWENTY YEARS AGO: November 24, 1966

The Sequoias opened up the basketball season in spectacular fashion, beating the McHenry Warriors 76-63 in the non-conference opener. Let's see a repeat of that performance this year.

In 1966, the Beatles' song "Yellow Submarine" rocked the charts. According to Beatles sources, the song dethroned Mel Blanc's "I tawt I saw a putty tat" as the number one kiddie classic.

TEN YEARS AGO: November 24, 1976

It just doesn't seem fair. According to the Antioch News, "You cannot hunt legally on last year's hunting license, even if you only shoot at the ones you missed last year."

On Oct. 23, 1966, Mary Barr of Antioch and John Mors of Northbrook tied the knot. Following a Hawaii honeymoon, the couple settled in Antioch. Mary and John, let us know how the twenty years have treated you.

Thomas Jefferson said, "I like the dreams of the future better than the history of the past." Time Machine brings you both.

Boundaries

begin to chip away at the walking boundaries, you are setting a precedence. If you were not to offer this same service next year, obviously there would be less than-kind inquiries as to why not."

In other action, the board approved a new homework policy. Skidmore said that there's "no question about it" that homework, assigned on a consistent basis, improves school performance. The uniform policy will apply to all Dist. 34 schools.

He pointed out that the junior high had a homework policy, but not the elementary levels. Most of the homework assigned in grades K-5 varies from teacher to teacher. The major problem was, said Skidmore, that, "we didn't have a consistent (homework) policy from building to building."

The homework demands will be lighter for the lower grades, but Skidmore said it will begin, "the idea that school doesn't end at the school door."

The board also approved a new policy for dealing with an employee with a communicable disease, namely AIDS. Many schools have adopted policies which deal with AIDS-stricken students, but Skidmore thinks it's, "more likely that an employee would get it."

The board approved a process that would begin with the employee getting examined by a medical review team. The final decision would rest with the board, but it would definitely consider the recommendation of the review team. The removal of that employee would be possible.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

IS EVERYBODY EXCITED about the Christmas Parade this Saturday? You can bet that I'll be there, bundled up in my winter warmest. Maybe it will be warm this weekend, so plan on a long day of merry-making, shopping, and all-around Christmas cheer.

STOP BY Santa's Enchanted Castle this weekend, and don't forget to bring all of the kiddies. Coloring books will be distributed to each child, and they can even have a picture with that jolly old elf. Also, bring a bit of food and catch a great flick, "Annie," for a matinee showing on Saturday. Everyone will profit.

THIS WEEK'S holiday hint is an oldie but a goodie. What do you do when you have a Thanksgiving guest for the first time, and everything is a bit awkward? Of course, you try to make them feel right at home. How to do this, though, can be a bit tricky. What I do is this: keep stuffing turkey down their throats until they can't eat another bite. All around the table will feel bloated, and let me tell you, there's nothing like being stuffed to the gills to draw people together.

Knowledgeable Sergeant

Sgt. Ralph Connard of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. spoke to W.C. Petty students last week about how to handle the threat of drugs and kidnapping. He informed the students about the rules of safety in such situations.

Johnston Says Geary To Be Next Chairman

Just Politics

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

NEXT MONDAY, AT 9 a.m. at the County Board room in Waukegan, a new board chairman will be selected and new committee assignments will be passed out. Political columnist John Steinke and I have a cup of coffee riding on the identity of the new chairman. On another page, Steinke predicts that Richard Anderson of Barrington will be the next chairman. He is probably right.

The five most likely candidates, in my view, are Norm Geary of Grayslake, Anderson, Jim Dolan of Libertyville, Jim LaBelle of Zion and Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan.

The power balance on the board has shifted ever so slightly to the reform Republicans. There is still an almost even break between the regular Republicans and the reformers. Were it not for the issue of the Heartland settlement, Geary would probably be a shoo-in.

On this issue, though, Geary fought like a man possessed to stop it. He maintained that the county and Grayslake could get much better terms and would not need to accept a landfill. In the process, he alienated some crucial supporters, including Andrea Moore of Libertyville.

On the other hand, he helped bolster his support in Dist. 6 where environmental issues are of paramount importance. Dist. 6 Rep. Jerry Beyer, who would not normally support Geary, may find himself in a very ticklish situation. If the other Dist. 6 Reps. (Bruce Hansen, John Reindl, and Richard Anderson) join solidly behind Geary, Beyer will have to join them or risk a primary battle when he is up for reelection a year and a half from now.

The regular Republicans are lined up solidly behind Jim Dolan. If he can pull some support from LaBelle's faction, he could take it early. But LaBelle's faction is unlikely to move in a block to any other single candidate.

LaBelle, the incumbent, starts off with four votes. Frankly, I don't see him getting any stronger than that. His old allies, the reformers, feel betrayed by him and the regular Republicans don't trust him. After being elected with the help of the Geary Republicans and the Democrats two years ago, LaBelle moved to try to establish ties with the regulars. The regulars took advantage of his overtures, but they have no intention of welcoming him into the fold. Last spring, Sheriff Mickey Babcox contributed to the campaign fund of LaBelle's primary opponents.

Even political enemies do not trust someone who deserts friends for what appear to be motives of self-interest.

The Democrats are unlikely to support either

LaBelle or Dolan. At this point, there are reports that Geary and Anderson have agreed to help each other. If Geary can gather enough support early on, he will be chairman. If it looks as if another candidate is pulling ahead, Geary will throw his support behind Anderson.

The next chairman will be either Norm Geary or Richard Anderson. In either case, environmental issues will be a top priority.

I think that Norm Geary will be able to put enough votes together to win. He has enemies, but no one ever has to guess where he stands on the issues.

AVON TWP. ROAD Commissioner Pat Anderson stopped in last week to tell me how some service clubs are making their dollars go further in putting together holiday food baskets this year.

The Grayslake Lions are purchasing food through the SHARE Food Program. For $14 and four hours of public service work, they get a week's supply of food. That sure stretches out the number of baskets they can afford to distribute this year.

Any heads of other clubs that would like to do the same should contact Kathy Lennon at (312) 356-2116.

Illinois House Honors Schroeder

The Illinois House of Representatives last week adopted House Resolution No. 1660 memorializing Marshall R. Schroeder, founder of Lakeland Publishers. Sponsored by all Lake County legislators, the resolution eulogized Marshall Schroeder's many accomplishments, particularly his lifetime of work in the newspaper business. It also recognized his many achievements and contributions to the community and his personal commitment to civic, charitable, political, and business activities in Lake County.

Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said, "Marshall Schroeder was widely known for his leadership and success in the newspaper business, and he was also respected and appreciated because he energized many worthwhile organizations through his involvement."

He added that the resolution was a worthy tribute to a man who added so much to the history of Lake County.

Johnston Says Geary To Be Next Chairman

Just Politics

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

NEXT MONDAY, AT 9 a.m. at the County Board room in Waukegan, a new board chairman will be selected and new committee assignments will be passed out. Political columnist John Steinke and I have a cup of coffee riding on the identity of the new chairman. On another page, Steinke predicts that Richard Anderson of Barrington will be the next chairman. He is probably right.

The five most likely candidates, in my view, are Norm Geary of Grayslake, Anderson, Jim Dolan of Libertyville, Jim LaBelle of Zion and Eleanor Rostron of Waukegan.

The power balance on the board has shifted ever so slightly to the reform Republicans. There is still an almost even break between the regular Republicans and the reformers. Were it not for the issue of the Heartland settlement, Geary would probably be a shoo-in.

On this issue, though, Geary fought like a man possessed to stop it. He maintained that the county and Grayslake could get much better terms and would not need to accept a landfill. In the process, he alienated some crucial supporters, including Andrea Moore of Libertyville.

On the other hand, he helped bolster his support in Dist. 6 where environmental issues are of paramount importance. Dist. 6 Rep. Jerry Beyer, who would not normally support Geary, may find himself in a very ticklish situation. If the other Dist. 6 Reps. (Bruce Hansen, John Reindl, and Richard Anderson) join solidly behind Geary, Beyer will have to join them or risk a primary battle when he is up for reelection a year and a half from now.

The regular Republicans are lined up solidly behind Jim Dolan. If he can pull some support from LaBelle's faction, he could take it early. But LaBelle's faction is unlikely to move in a block to any other single candidate.

LaBelle, the incumbent, starts off with four votes. Frankly, I don't see him getting any stronger than that. His old allies, the reformers, feel betrayed by him and the regular Republicans don't trust him. After being elected with the help of the Geary Republicans and the Democrats two years ago, LaBelle moved to try to establish ties with the regulars. The regulars look advantage of his overtures, but they have no intention of welcoming him into the fold. Last spring, Sheriff Mickey Babcox contributed to the campaign fund of LaBelle's primary opponents.

Even political enemies do not trust someone who deserts friends for what appear to be motives of self-interest.

The Democrats are unlikely to support either

LaBelle or Dolan. At this point, there are reports that Geary and Anderson have agreed to help each other. If Geary can gather enough support early on, he will be chairman. If it looks as if another candidate is pulling ahead, Geary will throw his support behind Anderson.

The next chairman will be either Norm Geary or Richard Anderson. In either case, environmental issues will be a top priority.

I think that Norm Geary will be able to put enough votes together to win. He has enemies, but no one ever has to guess where he stands on the issues.

AVON TWP. ROAD Commissioner Pat Anderson stopped in last week to tell me how some service clubs are making their dollars go further in putting together holiday food baskets this year.

The Grayslake Lions are purchasing food through the SHARE Food Program. For $14 and four hours of public service work, they get a week's supply of food. That sure stretches out the number of baskets they can afford to distribute this year.

Any heads of other clubs that would like to do the same should contact Kathy Lennon at (312) 356-2116.

Illinois House Honors Schroeder

The Illinois House of Representatives last week adopted House Resolution No. 1660 memorializing Marshall R. Schroeder, founder of Lakeland Publishers. Sponsored by all Lake County legislators, the resolution eulogized Marshall Schroeder's many accomplishments, particularly his lifetime of work in the newspaper business. It also recognized his many achievements and contributions to the community and his personal commitment to civic, charitable, political, and business activities in Lake County.

Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said, "Marshall Schroeder was widely known for his leadership and success in the newspaper business, and he was also respected and appreciated because he energized many worthwhile organizations through his involvement."

He added that the resolution was a worthy tribute to a man who added so much to the history of Lake County.

PHYSICIANS, SCHEDULE SOME TIME FOR YOUR COUNTRY.

Many physicians would like to devote some time to their country in a local Army Reserve unit. We know that making a weekend commitment can be difficult for most physicians. So it is practical for the Army Reserve units to be flexible about time. It's worth discussing.

Incidentally, in addition to satisfying your own desire to serve your country, there are exceptional opportunities to do something totally different from a day-to-day routine. Opportunities to study new areas of medicine, meet new people in your specialty, and be a part of one of the world's most advanced medical teams.

Discuss the opportunities with our Army Medical Personnel Counselor. Call:

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Weekly Tip: Watch your energy outgo. Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Resist your growing disinterest and finish the tasks at hand within the next two weeks, or risk causing a divisive conflict between you and good friends.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A minor problem could become a major irritation unless it's solved quickly. Once all rough feelings are soothed, get back into preholiday preparations.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A time for reconciliation is at hand. Listen with an open mind to all sides of each question. Start holiday preparations as early as you can.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) Misunderstandings lead to frantic moments. To avoid problems, take time now to make sure everyone understands everyone's position.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Don't panic if you are stalled by too much red tape. Investigate safe ways to get moving; resist making rash moves that could lead to deadends.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Time factors are important. Work towards fulfilling goals at a steady, even pace. Upcoming holiday brings new reasons for celebrating with friends.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A month of decision lies ahead. As the new year dawns, many of your plans begin to come into effect. Old friends return with new suggestions.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Quiet attention to a family matter brings a successful outcome. Develop that other relationship that seems to have a more promising future.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) An earlier misjudgment is resolved. You soon get news you had waited to hear. An offer comes through with unexpected strings attached to it.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Is it an intrusion or a welcome offer of assistance? You soon have to decide how to interpret the arrival of a third party in your life.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Mixed signals could cause mix-ups between the very best of friends. Don't let pride take you for a ride. Heal hurt feelings before they form scars.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Watch your energy level. Doing too much now could be your undoing later. Monitor health problems before they intrude on your holiday plans.

Plan Holiday Program

Take time out and celebrate the holiday season with the Waukegan Public Library's Annual Christmas Program on Wednesday, Dec. 3. This year's theme will be "Celebrate Waukegan...Where Cultures Blend," with a morning program at 10 a.m. and an evening program at 7 p.m.

The morning program will include a dramatic monologue of the story, "Journey to Christmas," by Norma Cribb, a member of the Waukegan Community Players, and music by the Afro-American choir from Waukegan West High School.

The evening program will contain a musical interlude by members of the Hispanic Presbyterian Church and a special Dickensian drama by Egon Schein who will include his portrayal of Scrooge.

Each program will have demonstrations of the following: scents of Christmas (potpourri), Christmas (religious ornaments), origami, pinecone wreaths, Renaissance angels, decorative stationery (a.m. only), P-ferrnuse, candy houses, Christmas figures, and a book display by B. Dalton booksellers.

A highlight of the programs will be the annual visit of Santa as he surprises the visitors who have managed to be good this past year.

Schedule Youth Program

Young people today are faced with a variety of problems from coping with broken homes to social pressures from peer groups. The holiday season can add to these stresses.

To help parents gain an insight into causes of emotional, behavioral and educational problems, a free special lecture program, "Understanding Today's Youth," will be presented at 7 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 4, in the community room of The Family Health Center, Hawthorn, Six Phillip Rd., Vernon Hills.

Sponsored by The Medical Center of Lake County, the program will feature a panel of experts who will focus on subjects of concern to parents of young people from five years of age through 17. Educators and others who work with young people are also invited to attend.

Guest speakers will be Josef Hakimi, M.D., child/adolescent psychiatrist, and Robert Keefe, M.D., pediatrician, both members of the medical staff of the medical center; James E. Cisek, M.D., director of the Life Skills Training Center in Chicago; and Jackie Carmichael, M.S.W., social worker in the Lake County School system.

The program is open to the public. Refreshments will be served.
